Gwendolyn Armour Dies Despite Efforts of Science

Ten Physicians Unable to Save Life of 6-Year-Old Daughter of Millionaire.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Medical skill and science in spite of its grimness battles with Gwendolyn Armour, 6-year-old daughter of Philip D. Armour III, died at her father's home here early today. Ten of Chicago's most noted physicians and surgeons, aided by every facility that money could provide, failed to save the life of the child.

The little girl's illness was diagnosed as septicaemia, induced by a throat infection that developed about a week ago. Yesterday, when the child's illness reached the most critical stage, "consolite" was established about the Armour home and streets were closed to traffic.

The rumbling buses that use Lake Shore Drive as a thoroughfare were forced to detour.

The entire Armour family was at the child's bedside and scores of the wealthiest and most prominent people in Chicago were callers to make inquiries as to Gwendolyn's condition.

Gwendolyn was the elder of two children of Philip D. Armour III, son of the grandson of the famous founder of the Armour Packing industry. Mrs. Armour was Miss Gwendolyn Condon of New York.

MARY GARDEN WEPS AT BEING KISSED, WEPS FOR JOY

PORTLAND, Ore., March 23.—Mary Garden, here at the head of the Chicago Opera Company, says Portland is the first city to which she has ever been welcomed with kisses from both the Governor and the Mayor.

Thousands awaited her at the station. When Miss Garden appeared, Mayor George L. Baker rushed forward and kissed her. Gov. Ben Ontario, who was next in line, took a little snub.

"Go on, Governor, you're next," yelled the crowd, and the Governor did his duty as he saw it.

Miss Garden burst into tears, but soon explained that they were tears of joy.

CHLORINE IN WATER KILLS WASHINGTON AQUARIUM FISH

Two Four-Foot Sturgeons, Raised From Minnowhood, Among the Victims.

By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 23.—A small quantity of chlorine used recently for the first time to purify the city's water supply has killed most of the fish in the aquarium and breeding tanks of the Bureau of Fisheries. It was not known today, all of the eggs on the sea and land for the young fish, trout, salmon, sturgeon and other species. It was said, were destroyed by the chemical, harmless to man, which was made necessary in the water supply.

Among the fish lost were two four-foot sturgeons, which had been raised from minnowhood and a number of other valuable specimens.

TWO KANSAS CITY (MO.) COUPLES ON BOARD

"Miss Miami," Which Left Miami at Noon Yesterday, Failed to Reach Bimini Island, 45 Miles Away.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., March 23.—The return from Bimini shortly before noon today of two seaplanes with the report that no trace had been found of the flying boat Miss Miami, missing with its pilot and five passengers since noon yesterday, when it departed for Bimini, resulted this afternoon in the sending out of five seaplanes, a United States destroyer and several speed boats in search of the craft.

The steamship Lumina, reported by wireless having seen a plane at sea off Jupiter at 7 o'clock this morning, but it was not believed here that it was the Miss Miami.

The report of the two planes which went to Bimini this morning prompted the calling of a meeting of aircraft owners here, and it was agreed to divide the territory along the coast and call on every available seaplane to join in the search.

Wife of Philip D. Armour, the pilot, the others aboard the missing plane were Mr. and Mrs. August Butle and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Smith of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. J. S. Dickson of Memphis, Tenn., wife of the president of a lumber concern of that city.

The wireless apparatus at Bimini is out of commission.

The island of Bimini is approximately 45 miles from Miami and the airplanes which make regular trips from this city to the island make it at the average speed of 150 miles an hour.

The Miss Miami left here at 11:30 yesterday morning and was due at Bimini at 12:15. Due to high winds of the last several days the sea yesterday was moderately rough.

The little girl's illness was diagnosed as septicaemia, induced by a throat infection that developed about a week ago. Yesterday, when the child's illness reached the most critical stage, "consolite" was established about the Armour home and streets were closed to traffic.

The rumbling buses that use Lake Shore Drive as a thoroughfare were forced to detour.

PAYS $12.90 TO FIND OUT $10 DIDN'T MAKE HIM DETECTIVE

Swansea (III.) Man, Fined, Tells of Taking Correspondence Course and Shows Tin Star.

It cost Emil Baquet of Swansea, Ill., $12.90 yesterday to find out that he was not "Hawkins" after he had paid $10 to become one.

Baquet, a man of $10 a week, spent the day in the office of the Attorney-General and a commission and instructions to go ahead and detect.

He thought he detected something in Swansea, a Belleville suburb, and called out the Belleville police. They found everything serene in Swansea and went back.

Baquet called up a second time and was detected. He and his son were haled into court. He was fined $5 and costs, aggregating $12.90.

SURGICAL OPERATION IN COURT

Surgeon Extracts Bullets to Prove Contention of Defense.

By the Associated Press.

MILLEN, Ga., March 23.—A surgical operation performed in open court upon Sydney Rowe and Roscoe Chance, two of the five men charged with the murder of Dr. Allen H. Christian, was the feature of the trial here yesterday of R. H. Chance, 52.

The Attorney-General did not disclose the Government's plans for the miners' walkout, but it was understood that he conferred yesterday with President Harding and Secretary Davis upon the possibility of a public appeal by the President to avert the strike.

Saw President Yesterday.

It is understood that he conferred yesterday with President Harding and Secretary Davis on the possibility of a public appeal by the President to avert the strike.

Daugherty said that he did not know the Government would have to wait until there was an actual coal shortage before it could take action. His theory was, he explained, that since fuel was an indispensable part of transportation the Government has the same power to act in the case of any interference to coal production that it would in the event of any interruption in the nation's transportation system.

The Attorney-General then proceeded to say that action by the Government in case of a coal strike would be a little farther step than had been taken by any other country, a little more drastic and a little more specific, but his mind was set upon it and only a court could block it. He added it was probable that one minute past midnight on March 31, the Justice Department would have something to say on the situation.

He was driving a car containing the five men, which it is claimed was fired upon in the vicinity of the Allen home.

Miners and Operators Meet in Effort to Avert Strike.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—In an eleventh hour attempt to halt preparations for a nation-wide strike in the coal industry, the arbitration committee of anthracite miners and operators met behind closed doors here today.

The committee comprises eight men, four miners and four operators.

With sat at the head of the committee, John L. Lewis, president of the International organization of United Mine Workers, heads the miners' delegation. The spokesman for the operators is S. D. Warriner of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co.

On the conference will depend whether the 100,000 anthracite workers shall proceed with the 400,000 workers in the bituminous fields and prepare to drop their tools April 1, while the 19 wage demands receive consideration.

The miners' representatives entered the meeting with little expectation of reaching an agreement to avert the strike.

"Of course we have hope," said Lewis.

"It would be possible for us to conclude an agreement within 40 minutes. Such a thing might happen.

But I recall that similar wage arbitrations in previous years have taken from four weeks to several months. There is no reasonable doubt but that the general strike will be called April 1, as scheduled."

Lewis announced the mine workers are still ready and willing to set a personal mission to the Vicksburg area.

No previous intimation of such a request has been given in dispatches received in this country. The late Pope Benedict XV contributed to Dr. Nansen's mission and received him in audience last November.

DEATH PENALTY NOT ASKED FOR IN KIDNAPING CASE

Assistant Circuit Attorney
Calls Jury's Attention to Seriousness of Charge Against Vincenzo Bullaro.

CASE PLACED IN HANDS OF JURY

Bullaro, at Session Last Night, Denied He Admitted
Abducting 7-Year-Old
Dominick di Franco.

The case against Vincenzo Bullaro, 30 years old, of 1410 North Eleventh street, charged with kidnaping Dominick di Franco, 7, son of Constantino di Franco of 5256A Wilson avenue, was given to the jury at 12:05 o'clock this afternoon, but the jurors were instructed by Circuit Judge Miller not to begin their deliberations until after lunch.

The State did not ask for the death penalty against Bullaro, but Assistant Circuit Attorney Garstang called the jury's attention to the seriousness of the charge, and left the punishment to its discretion. The Judge gave the jury four forms for its verdict—one for the death penalty, one for a life sentence, one for a term of five years or more in prison, and the last for acquittal.

The last testimony and final arguments in the case, which began yesterday, were heard this morning.

Dinal He Admitted Abduction.

Bullaro, testifying in his own defense in a three-hour session held last night, repudiated that part of an alleged confession he made to the police on the night of Nov. 29, when Dominick was found in Bullaro's house, which admitted that Bullaro had abducted the boy in revenge on the elder Di Franco. He upheld the part of the statement which declared that blackhands had extorted $1000 from him, and which the Court had previously referred to as self-serving.

Bullaro's attorney, Verne Lacy, a former Assistant Circuit Attorney, questioned the defendant through an interpreter on the declaration that Bullaro could speak and understand Italian. The cross-examination by the prosecution was conducted in English, however, when it was found Bullaro understood well enough.

Bullaro's Story.

The substance of his story on direct examination follows:

Bullaro was home all day Nov. 14, and that morning three strange men and a little boy came to the house, asking to rent the second floor, which was vacant. They rented the quarters for two days, and on the last day, the man said he was going for his wife and left the boy in Bullaro's care. Bullaro did not know the boy was Dominick di Franco until the police came on the evening of Nov. 29. At the police station they read a paper to Bullaro (the alleged confession), but he didn't understand it because it was in English; he signed it because he wanted him to. He knew nothing about a letter threatening Dominick's life which di Franco had written. He had not been mistreated at the police station, except some one had hit him in the mouth. It will be recalled that Dominick's 16-year-old brother, Carmelo, hit Bullaro then.

As was related after Bullaro's arrest, the police announced they had obtained a statement from him in which he admitted abducting Dominick, saying he did so in revenge on the boy's father, whom he had been told was a party to the plot by which $1000 was extorted from him (Bullaro).

Questioned in English.

When cross-examination began last night it did not take long to learn that Bullaro spoke and understood English to a degree. This is in effect what he said in reply to Garstang's questions:

That part of the alleged confession which related to the plot to extort money from him was all right, he having made such statements to the police when he didn't tell the truth. In Ferguson's view, one of the plotters and he was certain he didn't admit that he abducted Dominick.

Three men brought a little boy to his house Nov. 14 and he was certain he didn't know who the boy was. The oldest man, who paid the rent, he knew only as "Tony." At that time Bullaro, who is a candy maker by trade, was selling cloths to tailors, but after Nov. 14 he heard no discussion any place, he went about a boy being kidnapped.

Witnesses for Defense.

The defense put one witness in the courtroom last night and today, its last witness, which said he was at Bullaro's house on the morning of Nov. 14, when three strange men and a boy, who looked like Dominick, came and rented rooms. These witnesses, who were friends of Bullaro, were Jake Bela, a railroad laborer, and Ralph Burcher of 1091 North Tenth street.

The only other witness for the defense were Father Caesar Spigari, pastor of St. Charles Borromeo's Italian Catholic church, and Vincent Bartolucci, a druggist at 500 Carr street, who said Bullaro's character was good.

The State's case was rested on the testimony of Dominick, his father, another boy who saw the abduction, and two policemen who found Dominick and arrested Bullaro.

Dominick testified without giving

Sculptor's Model and Student Who Ended Lives With Same Phial of Poison

MISS PAULINE CLARK.

MISS CLARK, formerly a sculptor's model and the divorced wife of a naval officer, and Larsen, honor Norwegian student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, killed themselves with poison from the same phial. Larsen, Sunday, took the same poison which he had prepared for Miss Clark and from which she drank at her Boston apartment in the presence of Larsen and others.

any appearance of fright, and in English. He said that Bullaro had him in an automobile at Edwards and Elizabeth avenue at 8:30 a. m. Nov. 14, as he was going to school and took him to his house, "near the police station where they took me." Dominick wore a white shirt in court. He smiled frequently, but during the evening session became sleepy, as he sat on a spectator's bench, thumb in mouth.

Di Franco was asked to identify a letter written in Italian, which threatened Dominick's life, but he said he had no knowledge of it. He received this letter at about the time his son was found. A legal skirmish resulted from the introduction of the letter, which was finally translated and read to the jury.

This was the letter of which Bullaro denied knowledge, and there was no evidence to connect him with it.

"Letters" From Child.

Included with this letter had been two childlike drawings consisting of meaningless combinations of simple lines. Dominick identified the drawings, when he testified as "letters" he had written to his father at the direction of a man known to him as "Filippo," and who stayed at Bullaro's house with him.

Policeman Fred H. Schiebelbein and Sergt. Anthony Adreveno of the Carr Street District, testified to arresting Bullaro when they found Dominick under the sink in his home. They said the boy told them he did not know his name, as he looked up and said, "I'm 11." They said that Bullaro made the alleged confession voluntarily, and without threat, promise or abuse. The Lieutenant added that Bullaro wanted to make a statement as soon as he was arrested.

HOLDUP IN VIEW OF HUNDREDS

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, March 23.—Within full view of hundreds of passersby and with a policeman directing traffic not a hundred feet away, three robbers held up the First National Bank in the heart of the city, and escaped with diamonds and jewelry, estimated by Sam Sabin, owner, to be worth more than $50,000.

VITAMINES

Yeast is rich in one class of vitamins, called the "water-soluble".

Meat contains another kind, known as the "fat-soluble" vitamins.

The juices of citrus fruits furnish still another class—the "anti-scurvy" vitamins.

But the pure, fresh milk served at CHILDS surpasses them all—it contains all three varieties.

That is why doctors and dietitians agree that milk is the one perfect food.

JOHN GANDOLFO, FLOUR MILL FOUNDER, DIES

Veteran of Union Army Established First Self-Rising Flour Plant West of Mississippi.

John B. Gandolfo, 79 years old, founder of the first plant west of the Mississippi to make self-rising flour, and a Lieutenant-Colonel in the Union Army during the Civil War, died of pneumonia today at the city hospital.

He had been an inspector in the Street Department for the past nine years, following his retirement in 1911 from the Gandolfo-Ghio Mfg. Co., which he founded in 1875.

He was born in Italy, but came to this country at the age of six. He was in New York at the outbreak of the Civil War and in 1860 joined Hawkins' Zouaves, with which he served throughout the war. His regiment was in Gen. Sherman's brigade, and he participated in Sherman's march through Georgia to the sea. He was also in the Battle of Antietam and several other engagements.

Gandolfo was a member of the Board of Trade for many years, and at the time of his death was an honorary member of the Merchants' Exchange.

Shortly after coming here in 1870, he was sent by the Board of Trade to Washington, where he was instrumental in having Jefferson Barracks retained as an army post. He was president of the Provident Association for several years.

His wife, whom he married in 1867, died in 1916. They had no children.

WRIT AGAINST GEN. SEMENOFF

By the Associated Press.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 23.—A writ, charging that Gen. George Semenoff, Siberian antishabalnik leader now at Vancouver, wrongfully deprived the firm of C. B. Richardson & Co., 29 Broadway, New York, of furs, skins and hides in transit through Siberia and consigned to that company, was issued against Gen. Semenoff in the British Columbia Supreme Court here yesterday. The writ claims $150,000 damages.

The complaint also charges that Semenoff seized the shipment, which had been gathered from various parts of Siberia, when he relinquished command of the antishabalnik forces in that country. It further alleges that the General disposed of the furs and skins and had him with him at the present time part of the proceeds of the sale. Gen. Semenoff and his wife obtained permission Tuesday to enter the United States and is expected to go to Washington.

The men seeking the bonus now are organized. He predicted that the children of this age and their children would not see the end of the payments under the proposed legislation.

Closing debate on the rule, Chairman Campbell of the Committee reporting it, attacked the minority report signed by Representative Kitchin and four other Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee as "demagoguery and cheap clap trap."

Quoting a statement by Henry Ford that if given the Muscle Shoals project for development under Government contract work many former service men would be given jobs, he said: "The American Federation of Labor," he added, "is the most effective organization of the American Federation of Labor." It was announced here today, after a visit to miners' offices of envoys of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The purpose of this conference is to make possible the fullest and most effective co-operation with the United Mine Workers on the part of the American Federation of Labor, and its affiliated departments and divisions."

RICKARD WITNESS SAYS SHE FORGED CHECKS

15-Year-Old Girl Testifying
Against Sports Promoter Admits She Committed Burglary.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Twelve-year-old Alice Gasko, chief corroborating witness for the State in the trial of Tex Rickard, sports promoter, charged with criminal assault on Sarah Schoenfeld, 15, admitted under cross-examination of Rickard's counsel today that she had forged checks and committed a burglary.

She also admitted having lied to police and truant officers who had picked her up at various times.

Quietly and without a sign of emotion, she answered questions regarding her past, and also testified that her church, Sarah, her friends among sailors who had asked her to visit the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

the seismograph, or earthquake recorder, of St. Louis University shows a record of eight distinct shocks within 12 hours, the first beginning at 4:29:56 p. m. yesterday and the latest at 5:20 a. m. today.

Range of Seismograph Wide.

The seismograph shows the intensity and the duration of the tremors, and the range of the instrument is so wide that shocks in South America, China and the East Indies are recorded. The instrument usually records three or four shocks a month, most of which are felt only in certain limited localities.

The instrument stands on a concrete base, independent of the University building. Two needles, one indicating a north and south direction, and the other an east and west direction, draw lines upon the surface of a revolving drum. Most shocks are indicated by wavering of the lines made by both needles, but one will indicate the probable direction and the distance can be calculated from the duration of the preliminary tremors. With the help of past experience, which has shown the location of earthquake centers, such as New Madrid, it is possible to determine the location of the shocks.

As only one shock, about 4:30, was generally felt here yesterday afternoon, and another one at 8:22, it appears that the rest of the tremors recorded were of a minor character, such as not to be observable.

Earth Shocks Felt at Several Points
South and Southeast of St. Louis.

Dispatches from points south and southeast of St. Louis tell of the tremors yesterday afternoon and last night, as follows:

CAPE GIRARDEAU—Shock felt at 4:30 a. m.; chimney of a school house dislodged; windows and dishes rattled and ornaments knocked down.

POPLAR BLUFF—Heavy tremors, lasting about 10 seconds, felt at 4:26. Second shock, lasting a half-minute, at 8:25 p. m., more severe than first one, and reported as having been felt throughout Southeast Missouri.

SIKESTON—Shock at 4:30 p. m.; building shaken and windows rattled.

HICKMAN, Ky.—Tremors at 4:31, lasting several seconds. No damage.

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Slight shock beginning at 4:27, and lasting nearly a minute; dishes fell from shelves in some homes. Second tremor, at 8:20 a. m., lasting 36 seconds.

New Madrid Earthquake Center.

Brother Ruppel, in charge of the seismograph, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter:

"Louis is in the New Madrid region. New Madrid being one of the world's earthquake centers. New Madrid was the scene of the destructive earthquake of 1811, which caused a depression of the earth and the formation of a lake in that vicinity."

Earth tremors as those of yesterday, that is, the faulty connection of the earth, or the collapse of the crust through undermining action of water, or the disappearing or drying up of subterranean lakes. These tremors are accentuated by the weight of the upper crust, or heavy atmospheric pressure, or disturbances elsewhere in the world. However, I know of no disturbances which could be connected with this earthquake. There have been some volcanic eruptions in Pacific islands, but the range of their influence would be only a few hundred miles, and would not extend to this region."

Felt in All Parts of City.

The tremors, both afternoon and night, were felt, and were reported to police stations and to newspaper offices by residents of all parts of the city.

Mr. W. R. Sommer of 14 South Webster avenue, who has in the past reported earthquake shocks in San Francisco, reported that the windows and doors of his home were shaken by the shock at 8:22 p. m., and a clock on the mantel was stopped, as she felt the same sensations which she had felt.

EARTH TREMORS
FELT IN ST. LOUIS AND AT SEVERAL NEARBY POINTS

Shocks Apparently Center in New Madrid Region in Southeast Missouri, Where They Were Noticed Through Rattling of Windows and Dishes.

FIRST AT 4:30 P. M.
SECOND LAST NIGHT

Seismograph at St. Louis U. Recorded 8 Distinct Shocks in 13 Hours, the Last Being at 5:20 A. M. Today—No Damage Reported.

Two earth tremors, apparently centering in the New Madrid region, the historic seat of earthquake disturbances, were felt in St. Louis, and in Southeast Missouri, Southern Illinois, Western Kentucky and Northwest Tennessee, at 4:30 p. m. yesterday and at 8:22 last night.

No serious property damage, or injury to any person, has been reported from any point. The reports in most cases were that the earthquakes were noticed through the rattling of windows, or the shaking of dishes on pantry shelves, and in some places the shock was heavy enough to shake dishes from the shelves.

The seismograph, or earthquake recorder, of St. Louis University shows a record of eight distinct shocks within 12 hours, the first beginning at 4:29:56 p. m. yesterday and the latest at 5:20 a. m. today.

Range of Seismograph Wide.

The seismograph shows the intensity and the duration of the tremors, and the range of the instrument is so wide that shocks in South America, China and the East Indies are recorded. The instrument usually records three or four shocks a month, most of which are felt only in certain limited localities.

The instrument stands on a concrete base, independent of the University building. Two needles, one indicating a north and south direction, and the other an east and west direction, draw lines upon the surface of a revolving drum. Most shocks are indicated by wavering of the lines made by both needles, but one will indicate the probable direction and the distance can be calculated from the duration of the preliminary tremors. With the help of past experience, which has shown the location of earthquake centers, such as New Madrid, it is possible to determine the location of the shocks.

As only one shock, about 4:30, was generally felt here yesterday afternoon, and another one at 8:22, it appears that the rest of the tremors recorded were of a minor character, such as not to be observable.

Earth Shocks Felt at Several Points
South and Southeast of St. Louis.

Dispatches from points south and southeast of St. Louis tell of the tremors yesterday afternoon and last night, as follows:

CAPE GIRARDEAU—Shock felt at 4:30 a. m.; chimney of a school house dislodged; windows and dishes rattled and ornaments knocked down.

POPLAR BLUFF—Heavy tremors, lasting about 10 seconds, felt at 4:26. Second shock, lasting a half-minute, at 8:25 p. m., more severe than first one, and reported as having been felt throughout Southeast Missouri.

SIKESTON—Shock at 4:30 p. m.; building shaken and windows rattled.

HICKMAN, Ky.—Tremors at 4:31, lasting several seconds. No damage.

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Slight shock beginning at 4:27, and lasting nearly a minute; dishes fell from shelves in some homes. Second tremor, at 8:20 a. m., lasting 36 seconds.

New Madrid Earthquake Center.

Brother Ruppel, in charge of the seismograph, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter:

"Louis is in the New Madrid region. New Madrid being one of the world's earthquake centers. New Madrid was the scene of the destructive earthquake of 1811, which caused a depression of the earth and the formation of a lake in that vicinity."

Earth tremors as those of yesterday, that is, the faulty connection of the earth, or the collapse of the crust through undermining action of water, or the disappearing or drying up of subterranean lakes. These tremors are accentuated by the weight of the upper crust, or heavy atmospheric pressure, or disturbances elsewhere in the world. However, I know of no disturbances which could be connected with this earthquake. There have been some volcanic eruptions in Pacific islands, but the range of their influence would be only a few hundred miles, and would not extend to this region."

Felt in All Parts of City.

The tremors, both afternoon and night, were felt, and were reported to police stations and to newspaper offices by residents of all parts of the city.

Mr. W. R. Sommer of 14 South Webster avenue, who has in the past reported earthquake shocks in San Francisco, reported that the windows and doors of his home were shaken by the shock at 8:22 p. m., and a clock on the mantel was stopped, as she felt the same sensations which she had felt.

THIS is the record (indicated by the arrows) made on the revolving drum of the St. Louis University seismograph, or earthquake register, by the earth tremors after 4:29 p. m. yesterday. The lines are drawn upon a cylindrical surface of paper coated with lampblack by aluminum bristles.

The wavering of the uppermost indicator tremors is a north or south direction. The less pronounced variations of the lower line showed tremors in a general east or west direction. This gave the basis for a calculation that the direction of the quake center was southeast, and the distance was calculated by a formula established from past records.

The line a little below each of the longer lines is the record of a previous period, which was taken on the same surface, and which was without disturbance. The figures shown indicate minutes after 4 p. m., the minutes being checked off by the needles in obedience to impulses from a radio-controlled clock.

Building Trades Council, we sought a voluntary reduction of 20 per cent in wages from the various building crafts. We exhibited signed statements that such a reduction would result in $20,000 a week in savings to the building.

The less expensive声明ments that this building program would be postponed indefinitely if this 20 per cent reduction was not accepted.

"We spent a thousand dollars to have all data printed and placed in the hands of every member of the Building Trades Council prior to a referendum ballot on the matter.

Pending this ballot, both parties to the negotiations promised to refrain from any attempt by publicity, advice or other means, to influence the voters of the referendum.

The work to be done by the city is the resurfacing of Chestnut street, between Sixth and Ninth streets, in an effort to rush the job to completion. The Independent Quarry and Construction Co., to which a contract for the work was granted by the city last August, had been doing the work.

Because of the torn-up condition of the street, parts of it having been closed to traffic at various times throughout the winter, business men of the district have complained several times to Mayor Kiel and other city officials. In announcing that the work would be taken over by the city President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service said it is desired to relieve this situation at once.

The cost of the work remaining to be done, estimated to be about $2500, will be charged to the construction company. Kinsey said this may be done under provisions of the contract.

During the winter the city hall show that G. A. Heman, head of the construction company, was notified to begin work on the street at once, last August. Work was not begun until Oct. 12, however. Part of the concrete foundation that was laid by Eighth and Ninth streets, over which it had been planned to put asphalt, will be torn out, Kinsey said. He said the concrete was laid last January, during freezing weather and it is believed the foundation was made weak by the work done from then on.

The first trouble occurred when Mrs. Brady returned with a new green coat and said: "See the nice coat mamma bought me." Dr. Brady testified. He said it was not necessary for her mother to buy clothes for his wife and that he later received a bill for the coat himself, which was paid on the installment plan.

SAYS MOTHER-IN-LAW COMPLAINS.

Dr. Brady said that his mother-in-law once complained to Sister de Paul, the superior at St. Ann's Home, in regard to differences between him and his wife, and when he warned Mrs. Kinsella not to tell his domestic troubles on the outside she replied by giving him a "tongue-lashing." She told him he was not a society man and that all he thought of was to "pile up dollars," which he was doing in building the doctor quoted her as saying.

Dr. Brady produced his income tax reports showing that his net income from his practice and an apartment he owns at 5215 Ridge avenue has been about $10,000 a year for the last three years. His gross income, he said, was around $17,000.

Dr. Louis Pudberg, Dr. Edward Eymann, Dr. Ralph Thompson and Sister de Paul were called as witnesses for the defendant. The latter testified that she had effected a reconciliation between the couple on one occasion. Further hearing of the case was continued to Tuesday.

Physician Says He Provided for Wife According to His Means, but She Was Hard to Please.

Dr. Jules M. He said that he provided for her in accordance with his means, but she was hard to please.

John Joseph Tomaszewski Jr., 5 years old, 1750 North Ninth street, who died at the city hospital at 1:30 p. m. yesterday from a fractured skull suffered at 10:30 a. m., when knocked down by an automobile truck, was at first thought to have been only slightly bruised.

After the accident he was taken to a doctor's office nearby and the doctor being out, his wife examined the child and reported that she found no broken bones. The boy was taken home, and two hours later, when he became seriously ill removed to the city hospital, where surgeons discovered that his skull had been fractured.

SCHOOL TAX MEETING FOR WOMEN VOTERS

Continuance of 85-cent Levy to Be Discussed at Hotel Statler Saturday.

The proposition to continue the present school tax rate of 85 cents on the $100 valuation will be argued from every angle at a public mass meeting to be held in the ballroom at Hotel Statler at 2:30 p.m. Saturday by the League of Women Voters under the auspices of the Citizens' School Tax Committee.

There also will be a demonstration of school work. The pupils of the Webster School will present a play, written by themselves, entitled "Getting Out the Vote." The girls' chorus of Solidan High School will render several numbers and the pupils of Cleveland High School will present a sketch.

Speakers to Be Heard. The speakers will include President John C. Hobin of the Board of Education, Mrs. B. F. Bush, vice-president of the board; Miss Lily R. Ernst, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction, and Miss Tillie Geckas, primary supervisor.

Former Congressman Iglesias, chairman of the Ward and Precinct Committees of the Citizens' School Tax Committee, in an address at Central High School yesterday, instructed the principals and teachers on getting out the vote. He cautioned the workers not to be over confident.

An intensive telephone campaign is being conducted by the men who can be reached in that manner, to be held in fact their ballots next Tuesday. The children of the public schools have made more than 100,000 window cards with campaign colors—royal blue and yellow—which bear the inscription, "This Home Will Vote 'Yes' March 25."

The industrial plants are sending so many requests for noon-hour speakers that the committee has found it necessary to issue a call for volunteers. The Manufacturers' and Merchants' Association has endorsed the maintenance of the present tax rate and has asked its members to go to the polls and vote "Yes."

Meetings to Be Held Tonight.

Meetings will be held tonight in the following schools: Mason, Marquette, O'Fallon, Lafayette, Mark Twain, De Pores, Dewey and Wheeler. Dr. Emmet R. Kane will speak on the school tax at the Post-Dispatch radio concert tonight and rallies will be held tonight by the Seventh Ward Republican Club and the Twenty-sixth Ward League of Women Voters.

The 15-cent tax was informed last night by the patrons' associations of the Lyon and Shenandoah schools.

Police to Watch Polling Places During School Tax Election.

Work of proper polling of the 850 polling places in the city at the special school tax election next Tuesday is to be left to the captains of the districts, an order issued by Chief O'Brien last night.

They are instructed to see that the patrolmen on the beats where the polling places are located pay attention to the places throughout the election and at the close see that the returns are taken immediately after the count to the city hall. In case of trouble at any place, the Chief instructs that a policeman be stationed thereafter at that particular polling place to maintain the peace. The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

SCHOOL TAX MEETING FOR WOMEN VOTERS

Continuance of 85-Cent Levy to Be Discussed at Hotel Statler Saturday.

The proposition to continue the present school tax rate of 85 cents on the $100 valuation will be argued from every angle at a public mass meeting to be held in the ballroom at Hotel Statler at 2:30 p.m. Saturday by the League of Women Voters under the auspices of the Citizens' School Tax Committee.

There also will be a demonstration of school work. The pupils of the Webster School will present a play, written by themselves, entitled "Getting Out the Vote." The girls' chorus of Solidan High School will render several numbers and the pupils of Cleveland High School will present a sketch.

Speakers to Be Heard. The speakers will include President John C. Hobin of the Board of Education, Mrs. B. F. Bush, vice-president of the board; Miss Lily R. Ernst, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction, and Miss Tillie Geckas, primary supervisor.

Former Congressman Iglesias, chairman of the Ward and Precinct Committees of the Citizens' School Tax Committee, in an address at Central High School yesterday, instructed the principals and teachers on getting out the vote. He cautioned the workers not to be over confident.

An intensive telephone campaign is being conducted by the men who can be reached in that manner, to be held in fact their ballots next Tuesday. The children of the public schools have made more than 100,000 window cards with campaign colors—royal blue and yellow—which bear the inscription, "This Home Will Vote 'Yes' March 25."

The industrial plants are sending so many requests for noon-hour speakers that the committee has found it necessary to issue a call for volunteers. The Manufacturers' and Merchants' Association has endorsed the maintenance of the present tax rate and has asked its members to go to the polls and vote "Yes."

Meetings to Be Held Tonight.

Meetings will be held tonight in the following schools: Mason, Marquette, O'Fallon, Lafayette, Mark Twain, De Pores, Dewey and Wheeler. Dr. Emmet R. Kane will speak on the school tax at the Post-Dispatch radio concert tonight and rallies will be held tonight by the Seventh Ward Republican Club and the Twenty-sixth Ward League of Women Voters.

The 15-cent tax was informed last night by the patrons' associations of the Lyon and Shenandoah schools.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowel and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown meaty" bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—terpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bed time.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

No Flood Delays
on the Barge
Line

MISSISSIPPI-WARRIOR SERVICE.

Office of Federal Manager,
New Orleans, 9:00 A. M.
March 21st, 1922

To the Shipping Public:

From some unaccountable source, rumors are being spread that the service of the Government Barge Line is being delayed and interrupted by the existing floods.

There is no truth in this report. The Barge Line receives and discharges its freight over floating terminals which are equally available at flood stage and at low water.

The most recent tow southbound left St. Louis Wednesday, March 15, the wireless report from this towboat shows it at this hour to be at St. Joseph, Louisiana, three hundred and ten miles above New Orleans, and due to arrive in New Orleans within the next twenty-four hours.

Flood waters are no handicap to the Barge Line's operations.

The only anxiety which they can cause its management is when they threaten its through joint service by interrupting the operations of its railroad connections behind the protection of the levees. We have heard of no such public menace in any present reported flood stage.

The public has but to continue consigning its freight in care of the Mississippi-Warrior Service, to secure the customary regular movement.

THEODORE BRENT
Federal ManagerMOTHER BUYS AUTO
TO SEARCH FOR SONWoman in New York Has Not Heard From Him for Three Years.By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 22.—Failing by other means to find her son, a mother will set out from an East Side tenement next Thursday in an automobile she has bought with her savings to scour the vast expanse of country embraced by the single world west. The boy is Sidney Leroy Ross.

Mrs. Mary Whittaker, she remarried after her son's birth—will not admit the faintest chance that he is dead. Four years ago, in Oklahoma City, they separated. The son became a carpenter in Fort Worth, Tex. Mrs. Whittaker went to Tennessee to a munitions factory, but only a few weeks after she arrived the armistice came and there was no further need for munitions.

Mrs. Whittaker came to New York and soon after she arrived letters from Sidney ceased. The last one came from Kansas City, Mo., and told her the boy was planning to leave for Brewster, Mo., to go out again with the harvesters.

The mother tried every way she knew to reach her son. When her efforts failed, Mrs. Whittaker determined she would go and find him.

For more than three years she has worked as scrubwoman, dressmaker, doing odds and ends and lived from hand-to-mouth to save for her trip.

Her automobile, she said, would have a sign on each side reading: "Has anyone seen Sidney Leroy Ross?"

Between Engineers and Public
Sought by Road.

Each of the 119 passenger engineers with regular runs on the lines of the St. Louis &amp; San Francisco Railroad is being formally introduced to the public by means of a black enamel plate-glass name plate carrying the name in gold leaf letters eight inches high, on each side of his cab.

The innovation, which went into effect yesterday, is intended to create a personal relationship between the engineers and the traveling public, as well as to increase the engineers' pride in his engine. The plates are removable.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

OFFICERS SUSPENDED
FOLLOWING FLOGGING

Department of Justice Is Investigating Whipping of Two Men at Dallas, Tex.

By the Associated Press.
DALLAS, Tex., March 22.—Police Sergeant Louis Spencer and Patrolman Paul Adair were suspended from duty and Patrolman J. J. Crawford was discharged from the Dallas police force today following a conference between city officials in connection with the recent flogging of Philip Rothblum and Frank M. Etheridge, District Attorney H. C. Morrison, said would be made today in the same connection.

Etheridge, manager of a lumber company, was taken from his home in an exclusive district, Monday night, after he and his daughter had fought the band of masked men.

Announcement that the United States Department of Justice is assembling information on the case was made by Charles R. Breneman, agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He declared that similar investigations are being conducted in other Southern cities over the South, and that the information would be forwarded to Washington.

Louisiana Governor Urges Suppression of Ku Klux Klan.

By the Associated Press.
BATON ROUGE, La., March 24.—Gov. Parker today issued an appeal to the law officers of Louisiana to suppress with an iron hand the Ku Klux Klan, where they are seeking to supplant the machinery of justice.

In his appeal the Governor says: "In view of the repeated complaints which have come to me from various sections of the State, I now call upon all officers of the State to suppress with an iron hand the evil of Ku Kluxism wherever it raises its head, and, at the approaching session of the Legislature, will appeal to that body in the name of order and good government to enact a law, making it a felony for any man to hide behind a mask to drag the good name of this State in the mire, to bring contempt for law and civilization. Where great events and honest men and honest men will stand in the open fearless to see they are corrected with no need of disguise."

PRINTERS' UNION OFFICER DENIES WAGE COMPACT EVER WAS MADE

McFarland Says "Misstatements" Were Made by American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 23.—John McFarland, president of the International Typographical Union, in a statement issued here last night, declared that no agreement as to wages and working conditions ever existed between the union and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. His statement replied to one issued in New York by the publishers which asserted negotiations for a new agreement had struck a stalemate.

After declaring the publishers' statement contained "misstatements," McFarland's statement con-times: "An arbitration agreement has been signed locally by the parties to the terms of that agreement, wages and working conditions have been fixed locally by this national agreement expires by April 30, and negotiations are now in progress."

You don't have to coax big and little folks to eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes

Just as soon as you serve Kellogg's you'll note fussy and faded appetites getting mighty sharp; you'll find big bowls being handed back for "just a few more Kellogg's, mother—they're wonderful!"

And, that'll make you glad, for Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a great speed-start for the day's doings! They make for health and happy digestions! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough, but always joyously crisp!

Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes—will be a revelation to your taste if you have been eating imitations! For your own enjoyment, do this—compare the big, sunny-brown Kellogg's Corn Flakes with other "corn flakes." Eat some of Kellogg's—then try the imitations! You'll realize then why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest and fastest selling cereal in the whole world!

Do more than ask for "corn flakes." Insist upon KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package! My, but it's worth while!

AMATEUR ONE OF FIRST TO TOP MOUNT FUJI

Londoner Accompanies Experienced Alpinist When Mid-Winter Record Is Made in Japan.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, March 21.—Major Orde Lees, a parachute expert and Antarctic explorer, and H. Crisp, both of the British air mission in Japan, are the first climbers ever to reach the summit of Mount Fuji in midwinter.

Major Orde Lees is an experienced alpinist, but the performance was made remarkable because of the fact that Crisp is a Londoner with no former experience of mountain climbing.

Summit Reached at Night.
Mount Fuji is 12,385 feet high. The climb necessitated sleeping for two nights in a hut at 4700 feet. The snow extended from the summit down to 2800 feet. The last 4000 feet below the summit consisted of solid ice. This part of the climb occupied nine hours.

The summit was reached at 1 p.m. Feb. 13. The whole of the descent was made in a dense fog during the night. A violent storm raged all through the first night. Including route the climb and descent occupied exactly 48 hours. A record barograph was carried throughout the expedition.

Now So Cold as Top.

The climbers state that the cold at the top of the mountain at night was not severe. They had the misfortune to lose their entire equipment, cameras, spare clothing, thermos flasks, snowshoes and all their food through "coaching" it at a height of 10,000 feet and being unable to find it in the fog and darkness on the way down. In spite of going without food for 12 hours they arrived in splendid condition at their starting place, Gotohama.

No guides, ponies, horses or vehicles were employed other than a small sled made from an old airplane on which the climbers pulled their equipment to the sleeping hut. Maj. Orde Lees and Crisp were both in the Daily Mail airplane when it crashed at Carlisle, on flight to Scotland. Maj. Lees was a member of the Shackleton expedition of 1914-15 in charge of motor sledges. He has made $1 parachute drops from airplanes with a view to perfecting aerial life-saving.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF WORK IN LABRADOR

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell Wants Contributions to Fund for Medical Campaign.

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, for 30 years a medical missionary in the Labrador, came to St. Louis today to stay until Tuesday telling in about 10 speaking engagements of the work in the hope that St. Louis will contribute to a fund of $1,500,000 to be used as a foundation for carrying on his work after his passing. About $1,000,000 of the fund has been subscribed. His first public appearance was before the Chamber of Commerce at the noon luncheon.

Dr. Grenfell said that he has perceived that there is widespread misinformation about the Labrador and his work. The country is a 1500-mile seacoast on the mainland north of and part of Newfoundland, which has a separate government from Canada. He explained his term "the Labrador" as one in which he chose to denote the coastal strip from the remainder of the peninsula lying between Hudson Bay and the Atlantic, which is Labrador. In winter the population of the Labrador is about 6000 English, Scotch and Irish fishermen. Christians most of them, but primitive in a degree comparable with the Tennessee mountaineers. The population becomes about 50,000 in the summer fishing season.

Offered First Medical Aid. Until his coming the inhabitants of the coast were shut away from any medical aid in time of sickness or accident and adopted the most primitive and superstitious methods of treating themselves. The summer fishermen similarly were without medical succor.

Dr. Grenfell has substituted for this lack, six hospitals along the coast, four first-aid stations and a hospital ship, Strathcona, which cruises about the fishing fleet during the summer.

In addition, he has broadened his field to improve the social condition of the inhabitants by establishing co-operative stores to compete with the barter system, which, he says, has reduced the people to a penury comparable to slavery. He has established vocational classes, is beginning industrial training with weaving and toy-making classes.

Personnel of His Staff. His staff of workers, which number about 60 in the fishing season, are virtually all volunteers, surgeons with means and men and women workers of well-to-do families in the United States and England.

His work is founded, he says, on the theory that the work of the Christian church is fostering forces that make for peace and righteousness in this world, rather than academic theories as to how to get rewards in another. "The value of good work is to make men of different races think as we think," he said, "is being discounted increasingly every day."

News of the Business World
By Wire to the Post-Dispatch

March 23.
KANSAS CITY, Mo.—While elated over the improved crop conditions and increased prices for farm products, farmers and business men throughout the Southwest are not overconfident. Under normal financial conditions, there would be reason for extreme optimism, but good crops and good prices are needed this year to liquidate frozen loans. It is also apparent that there are enterprises in this district which have not recuperated sufficiently to permit them to continue as part of the general business structure. However, the Southwest is moving forward and there is ample ground for hopefulness.

The demand for farm implements is light and sales have been disappointing. Repair shops are doing a big business and farmers apparently have determined to make the equipment they have serve their purpose if it is possible to do so.

The Gold Packing Co. of Buffalo, Wichita and Omaha is negotiating for the purchase of the Drovers' packing plant here. The Drovers' is a co-operative institution controlled largely by farmers in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado.

NORTHWEST SITUATION.

SEATTLE, Wash.—Slow but certain and continuous improvement characterizes general business conditions throughout the Pacific Northwest. While there is a distinct tendency to act slowly and with caution, the industries of this territory are quickening in activity. Prices generally are stabilized and the era of vigorous price slacking seems to be over. Business, however, without exception, is on a firmer and more promising basis than for two years past, and all the forces of business are uniting in an advance which is slow but sure.

One of the most significant factors of the situation is the increase in building activity which has improved conditions in a score of industries. Demand for brick, slate, roofing, steel, lathing and ornamental terra cotta is much improved, and the volume of business in building materials is running far ahead of last year. Construction work in Seattle is $11 a thousand here, as compared with $10 a thousand in 1914. The Hedges Steel Equipment Co., jobbers and manufacturers of heavy structural steel report a moderate demand, although prices on some products, steel men say, are too low to show a profit.

Lumber production in Western Oregon and Washington as reported by 132 mills has increased until it is only 8 per cent below normal, while new business is 9 per cent above production.

CLEVELAND, O.—The volume of business in Cleveland, Akron, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Warren and Youngstown has increased materially in the past week, according to bank debts in those cities, which are believed to reflect conditions accurately. Cleveland banks have increased their deposits more than $12,000,000 in the last three months, and a drive for new depositors this week by two local banks netted nearly 1700 new accounts the first day.

A slackening of production is reported by some of the Akron tire companies, but the tire business is being operated on a hand-to-mouth basis this year. The old plan of loading up dealers in the winter and

EDITORIAL ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH SECTION

PART TWO.

FRIENDS OF REED
MAY ATTEMPT TO
SPLIT LONG'S VOTESluggers Expected to Put
Other Candidates in Race to Enhance Chances of Senator.PLAN TO DRAW VOTES
FROM OPPONENTOppression Prevails—Reed
Could Not Win Two-Man
Race, but Might Defeat
Larger Field.

United States Senator Reed, having announced his candidacy for re-election for a third term, the question of whether he would be a candidate which has been the frequent topic of conversation among senators, has given way to discussions as to whether there will be one or more other candidates brought into the race to divide the vote, which would otherwise go to Senator Long, and thus give nomination to Reed.

There has been almost no divergence among informed politicians in expressed opinion that if Reed and Long were the only candidates for the nomination and if the primary were to be held at this time, Reed could not hope to obtain more than 35 per cent of the vote. There is, however, a wide difference of opinion as to what Reed's strength will be at the primary at the end of a month.

Candidates Expected.

Friends of Long and opponents of Reed generally have assumed that, particularly since the Senator has had his campaign in the hands of an experienced, resourceful and political politician as Ed Gleam of the County, that there will be at least one, or probably two, other candidates, and that they will be men who will draw votes from Long and from Reed. The theory of Long men is that Reed cannot be nominated in a two-man race, and that, possibly, could win a three or four man race.

Unquestionably there has been a placement of the anti-Reed forces in Missouri in the last two years but on a recent visit to several Missouri counties a Post-Dispatch reporter was informed by men experienced in Democratic politics that Reed had not gained materially.

In St. Joseph, a banker and a lawyer both active in Democratic politics for many years, expressing an opinion that Long was not a candidate, said that even though Long had the opinion, Reed did not receive 20 per cent of the Democratic vote in Buchanan County.

In Charlton County, leading Democrats said there was little strength, and that if Reed obtained the nomination, there would be hundreds of Democrats in the county who would scratch his name in the general election.

In Boone County, it was said that Reed's friends were "few and far seen," and were keeping very quiet.

In Henry County, a county officially a Democrat, said that he believed Reed would receive less than 10 per cent of the vote in the primary in that county.

When Reed was in St. Louis recently personal friends told him of his situation and advised him to resign out of the race.

Reed Strong Campaigner.

The situation now and the situation four months hence, when the primary will be held, are different, however. Reed probably is a strong campaigner in Missouri. He demonstrated this and again has the opportunity to make an impression on the public. In his speaking campaign, there is no doubt that he will overcome at least some of the opposition.

There is little question that Reed will array against him virtually all the influence of the women's organizations of the State, the National League and the W. C. W. as well as the old-time Democrats who insist upon party loyalty to their candidates. How he can overcome the opposition is difficult to determine, unless he can divide it among the race several other candidates.

Several have been mentioned, the most recent being Joshua W. Alexander of Galatin, Secretary of Commerce in President Wilson's cabinet, whose candidacy would not be a threat to Reed, but it would give a vote from Reed, but it would not be a threat to Reed.

Reed's vote would be practically unchanged.

It is known that one of Reed's friends produced the figures of the 1920 primary in a recent conference with Reed in an attempt to demonstrate to him that he could not expect to win.

There were six candidates in that race, and some talk of the election of St. Joseph, which would be Reed's friend, he will not be a candidate. Perl D. Decker of Joplin, Missouri Congressman, has been talked about, but it is not considered probable that he will run.

Text of U. S. Note to Allies Demanding
Rhineland Occupation Payment

By the Associated Press.

THE text of the identical communication addressed to the Governments of Belgium, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan on the American demand for payment of Rhineland occupation costs follows:

The Government of the United States has believed, and still believes, that the Governments of the allied Powers have no disposition to question the right of the United States to be paid, upon an equal footing with them, the actual cost of its army of occupation which it has maintained in Germany since the joint armistice agreement of Nov. 11, 1918. While the attitude of the Government of the United States, expecting full payment of these costs, has been repeatedly set forth, it is deemed to be appropriate, in view of recent developments, to make this statement of its position.

The amount of the claim of the United States for its army costs is understood to be well known, and to be free from any substantial dispute. According to the information and account in the possession of the allied Governments, it appears that the total cost of all of the armies of occupation from Nov. 11, 1918, to May 1, 1921, amounted to $3,639,232,000 gold marks; that the amounts due to Belgium, France and Italy for their army costs for that period have been paid in full (chiefly through delivery of property); that the unpaid balance of army costs due May 1, 1921, amounted to $1,60,000,000 gold marks due to the United States and the British Empire follows: United States, $96,434,000; gold marks; British Empire, 692,716,000 gold marks.

Rights of United States. It is understood that between May 1, 1921, and Dec. 31, 1921, the British Government received cash payments as against this balance of about 130,696,000 gold marks. In view of the position taken by the Government of the United States this payment was expressly made and received in accordance with the rights of the United States.

In November, 1921, the commission appointed by the Supreme Council to give its opinion on the expenses of the armies of occupation made its report, dealing with the army costs since May 1, 1921. This included calculations with respect to the American army, and its actual costs since that date were included in the proposed provision for payment pro rata with the other Powers.

It had been supposed that the report to the Supreme Council would be referred to the Conference of Ambassadors and would have the power to submit the recommendation of the army costs commission of other arrangements which would ignore American army costs altogether, although statements both for army costs and reparations were being made on the basis of the entire capacity of the German Government to pay. The Government of the United States recently learned that negotiations, in connection with and following the meeting at Cannes in January, are to be continued in the Conference of Ambassadors and that the substitution for the recommendation of the army costs commission of other arrangements which would ignore American army costs altogether, although statements both for army costs and reparations were being made on the basis of the entire capacity of the German Government to pay.

When it came to the notice of this Government that it was proposed at the meeting of the Finance Committee, March 8, definitely to assign the greater portion of the amount heretofore paid in cash by Germany, and not yet finally allocated, to the payment of army costs without making any provisions for those of the American army, it was deemed advisable again to direct attention to the position of the United States.

The Government of the United States has been advised that all the arrangements of the Finance Committee have been made subject to the rights of the United States and that these Ministers have also suggested that the Government of the United States should take up the question directly with the Government concerned.

Armistice Agreement. The armistice agreement concluded between the allied and associated Governments and Germany on Nov. 11, 1918, provided for military occupation by the allied and United States forces jointly, and it was expressly provided that:

"(a) The cost of the armies of occupation as defined under Article 249 during the armistice and its extensions and the cost of any armies of occupation as defined under article 249 after the coming into force of the treaty. This would seem clearly to embrace the cost of the army of occupation maintained by the United States.

The Government of the United States believes that its right to priority of payment for its actual army costs, upon an equal footing with the allied Powers, is not in any way affected by its failure to ratify the Treaty of Versailles. The right of the United States to share in this priority was not expressly conditioned upon the ratification of the treaty by the United States. It may be noted that the treaty was to come into force on the ratification on the part of Germany and of three of the principal allied and associated Powers. By article 251, quoted above, there is provision for priority of the cost of the armies of occupation during the armistice and its extensions and the cost of "any armies" of occupation after the coming into force of the treaty. This would seem clearly to embrace the cost of the army of occupation maintained by the United States.

The Government of the United States entertains the view, and submits it to the consideration of the allied Governments, that the United States is entitled to payment of the costs of its army of occupation pro rata with the allied Governments, and that payments received by them from Germany in the circumstances disclosed cannot be used to the exclusion of the United States without its consent.

The Government of the United States has been advised that all the arrangements of the Finance Committee have been made subject to the rights of the United States and that these Ministers have also suggested that the Government of the United States should take up the question directly with the Government concerned.

Justice of S. Claim. The Government of the United States is unable to conclude that the justice of its claim is not fully recognized. The Governments of the allied Powers

The vote received by Long and Hay, considerably more than half the vote cast, without question a pro-Wilson and an anti-Reed vote. It is generally certain that the entire vote received by Priest was a pro-Reed if not an anti-Wilson vote. Higdon's vote was considered little more than that of any man who would receive whose name was on the ballot. Scruton's vote was about in the same category. Lindsay, having made several campaigns for the nomination for Governor, had the semblance of a State organization which was responsible for his 12,000 votes. Reed was told that he could not

FINAL DEBATE ON FOUR-POWER PACT
OPENS IN SENATE

Administration Leaders Predict Ratification Will Be Assured With Votes Now Pledged.

SENATOR COLT OPENS
THE DEBATE TODAYNo Reservations Thought
Likely Except Those Approved by Committee or the President.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 23.—The four-power Pacific treaty was assailed in the Senate this afternoon by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, who was a member of Woodrow Wilson's Cabinet, as a "group alliance" which stand upon an equal footing with the other Powers.

It is not believed that the meaning of this agreement can be regarded as doubtful. It had not only its express provision, but its necessary implications. It is the view of this Government, and it is confidently believed that it is the view of all the Governments concerned, that this agreement on the part of the allied and associated Governments with Germany and with each other, had the clear intent that the Powers associated in this joint enterprise should stand upon an equal footing as to the payment of all the actual costs of their armies of occupation and that none of the Powers could, consistently with the agreement, make any arrangement for a preferential or exclusive right of payment. Further, it is assumed that it would not for a moment be contended that any of the allied Powers would have been compelled to accept the cost of the American army of occupation, notwithstanding the fact that the Treaty of Versailles has not been ratified by the United States.

It is the view of this Government that the United States has not ratified the Treaty of Versailles, and that the ratification of the German Empire and its constituent states would be taken for their benefit in the exclusion of any of the other Powers concerned.

It was apparently in recognition of the existing and continuing obligation as to army costs that, in the Treaty of Versailles, in the undertaking to place "a first charge upon all the assets and revenues of the German Empire and its constituent states" (Article 248), priority was given to the total cost of all armies of the allied and associated Governments in occupied German territory from the date of the signature of the armistice agreement.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never erate injustice or corruption, always fight damages to all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunders, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

THE FEDERAL MENACE

Federal usurpation Must Stop.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I WANT to thank you for calling the attention of the Governors of the states to the encroachments of our national government, both through Congress and our Federal Court decisions, on our "Local Self-Government". These encroachments have almost extinguished every right "reserved to the states and to the people" which was not granted to general Government, either expressly or by fair implication, until we cannot now pass an effective law to regulate the service of public utilities without colluding with a Federal commission, bureau or agency.

Many of the "acts of Congress" we invaded our state judicial system that they are really just additions to a crime of treason on their crimes. The anti-branching Bill of Representative Dyer is of this category. Purporting to prevent lawlessness it would, in operation, inflict try, condemn and punish communities.

The eighteenth amendment, when its adoption was advocated, did not propose to restrict the manufacture or sale of liquors for medicinal use or sacramental purposes; yet the "Volstead act of Congress" has placed such restrictions on it that a sick man and his family, if "poor," are deprived of its benefits for curative purposes, for want of enough money to pay for the pint allowed him at the end of the expensive "red tape" it takes to get it.

Federal usurpation must stop if the states are to continue in their sovereignty. CARR MCNATT.

A Call for Action.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE writer had the particular pleasure and edification of reading your editorial in your paper of March 19, entitled "An Appeal to Governors to Halt March Toward Federal Empire." Allow us to say that we consider this one of the most timely calls for action issued in the last 20 years, and it will be with considerable interest that we will be advised of the consideration with which your editorial is taken by those to whom it is addressed.

There is no question but what you are calling the attention of the American people to a fundamental fault in their present governmental system, and there is no question but what if they allow this fault to continue as it is and reach its ultimate development it will verily undermine the foundations on which the democracy has been built. In fact the matter has gone too far as it is, but even at that it is only in its infancy.

I certainly hope that your article will be well taken and seriously considered by those to whom it is particularly addressed and by every American citizen.

The Way to Empire.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

MAX I commend you for your splendid article entitled "Appeal to Governors to Halt March Toward Federal Empire," which appeared in the Post-Dispatch Sunday, March 19. It deserves the praise of every American citizen. It sets forth the principles upon which our Government was founded and vigorously points out the way in which it is being driven toward an empire. It is a simple, but forcible appeal to the common sense of the people, as well as to the Governors of the states, and is an appeal to which every thinking citizen should respond.

The Post-Dispatch has led the way—has called for a halt, therefore let us all take up and press the issue that certain "sovereign rights" may be recognized, and the principle of democracy upon which our Government of the people, for the people and by the people may be re-established and adhered to.

ELASCO D. STRICKER.

On Every Governor's Desk.

I HAVE read, with great interest your editorial published in the Sunday edition of your great paper, on Sunday, March 19, on the subject of the encroachment of the Federal Government upon states and state rights in contravention of the concept and intent of the framers of the Constitution of these United States.

I want to congratulate you thereupon; and had I the means and the power to place a copy thereof in the hands of every citizen of these United States, and more especially upon the desk of every Governor of every state of the United States, who has been a blind, mere rubber stamp—Governors by reason of such extended encroachments, I feel that I could render my country no better or potent service.

Everyone who has read (and I use the term read advisedly, and not a mere reading of the word) the rise and fall of the Roman empire will readily see the analogy in progress in so far as we have gone. And this great editorial, to my mind, is as one voice, crying in the wilderness, "Stop calling a halt."

Again I congratulate you and commend you for the publication of the great sentiment at this time.

SENATOR REED'S ISSUE.

Announcing his candidacy for re-election, Senator James A. Reed said that the issue upon which the campaign would be waged is "the utter failure of the present national administration to fulfill its promises and upon its many breaches of faith."

If the Senate shall fail to ratify the four-Power treaty Senator Reed will have been one of the chief contributors to the failure of the best thing the Harding administration has attempted, as he was one of the chief obstacles to the achievement of one of the greatest projects for human welfare by the Wilson administration.

If the peoples of the leading naval nations are not relieved of the crushing burdens of huge navies and of naval competition which leads to war and if a long step towards maintaining equity and peace in the Far East and the Pacific is not taken, Senator Reed will have a large share of responsibility.

annoyance, but he elected to rest his welfare in the hands of a jury rather than take 10 years.

So the case was tried and went to the jury, with instructions that a life sentence was mandatory if the man was found to have committed the crime and to have been previously convicted. The man admitted that he had served a previous term, but the jury let him off with two years and, according to the foreman, half of the jurors wanted to acquit him.

"We get some great juries in these courts," was Judge Hogan's comment on the work of this one. The "greatness" of the juries consists in their great proclivity for acquitting criminals or letting them off with a light sentence.

St. Louis is overrun with ex-convicts, and crime-ridden, largely because of the leniency of St. Louis juries and the delays of court trials.

A LIMIT TO PROFITHEERING.

In most cities the emergency created by the shortage of dwelling houses is past. Rents are still high and incomes low. Yet the crisis has been weathered, and in those states where rent laws have not hitherto been enacted they probably will not be until such a crisis returns.

The decision of the United States Supreme Court upholding the rent laws of New York State, therefore, is more significant for the principle it applies in the New York cases than for the result likely to be felt under the New York law or similar laws in other states.

The principle laid down is that there is a limit to which private property rights can be used when the exercise of those rights becomes a menace to the "health, morality, comfort and peace" of the people. Such being the case, it is declared by the highest court under our Government that the State has a right under its police power to interfere in the private relations of landlord and tenant and enforce regulatory laws for the protection of society.

This principle is a broad one and a far cry from the extreme laissez faire doctrine which, until recently, prevailed in our highest court. Yet under it, there is no denial of the reasonable exercise of the property right. The profiteer may still go much further than either charity or public spirit would justify before he comes into conflict with the police power.

The Supreme Court, in its rent-law decision, has done a service to democracy. It has even done a service to property by securing it in its reasonable rights while protecting it from dangerous reaction which might be provoked by too flagrant an abuse of the property power.

MR. SPENCER'S BLUNDER.

Senator Spencer of Missouri has again made a mess of it in venturing into the debate on the four-Power treaty, which, he declared, in a carefully prepared case, would give "distinct encouragement" to the people of Korea.

The opponents of ratification chattered derisively. The impertinent gallery tittered audibly. Senator Lodge as soon as might be came to the embarrassed Spencer's aid by explaining that "the words 'insular possessions and insular dominions' were selected with great care in order to exclude from the treaty any question touching the Continent of Asia or the Continent of America." In other words, the text was meticulously drafted to avoid the very complication which well-meaning Mr. Spencer unwittingly thrust upon the signatures.

Senator Spencer was in the predicament "when a fellow needs a friend." Senator Lodge tried to be that friend. He cordially approved and shared Mr. Spencer's sympathy for Korea. But emotion is one thing and a treaty is another, and Mr. Spencer's construction of the treaty as beneficially spreading out to Korea was a "misapprehension."

This is the second time that Mr. Spencer has amused, without enlightening, the Senate and galleries in the treaty debate. The inference is warranted, therefore, that foreign relations are not the Senator's metier. But he has a specialty. In the gender realm of ethics, on nice moral points, Mr. Spencer is delightfully at home. Shall we ever forget the shimmering garments with which Mr. Spencer clothed the famous Newberry purchase?

PEAKING of the American commissions of the painter Frank Brangwyn, the Bookman's painter of London, is now in full flower, as done for Cleveland Court House, Ohio, also the large and sumptuous panels painted for Mulligan's Court of Abundance or Court of the Arts, at the Panama Exhibition, and now a set of decorations for the Parliament House of St. Louis, Mo., will illustrate the rise into modernism of this energetic city.

It we do not deserve this in St. Louis, it will prove that so fine a thing is credible of us, which ought to endow us with that urge to action which only the faith of others can inspire. They have not given us up in London, even if Henry Adams did despair of us spiritually after seeing our river front and observing our streets all barren of art.

It is the State of Missouri which is entitled to credit for the Brangwyn's decorations, designed for the new Capital at Jefferson City. Since the above was painted in the Bookman's Journal, a contract has been made with the artist to decorate the entire dome, making his total commission in Missouri some $70,000. Nevertheless, we are grateful for the compliment to St. Louis, and wish we might have deserved it anyway for general grandeur.

Whether we like the Brangwyn dome or not at the outset, we may be sure that Missourians to come will like it. So much color and such violent leavening of mid-Western realism will be sure to perplex us, but we must not forget that in decorating the dome the commission has had to think of people to come after us in Missouri as well as people here now. The Brangwyn decorations will stand the test of time, and we shall grow with them out of the things we have thought to be art. It has taken courage to decorate the Capitol in this way, but after getting $400,000 for art the commission must have felt that the millennium had come in the bust for bureau domination and centralization of power at Washington and to return to simple fundamentals of our Constitution. It is upon the Governors to act in this crisis as fittingly as they alone, through action by the Legislatures, have the power to check the bust towards empire. If the Post-Dispatch needs in its attempt it will be the greatest achievement ever made by any newspaper.

Abolition that brought on our Civil War, we are indebted to the Wall Street Journal for the following:

"The uncertainty of industrial earnings is typified in the competition which ice cream cone makers are now facing from the new, chocolate-covered bricks of ice cream known as Eskimo pie. This confection was discovered when a Denver soda clerk spilled some melted chocolate on a can of ice cream and noticed that the chocolate hardened without melting the cream. Experiment evolved the 'pie' which was taken up in a large way by a Philadelphia man—Philadelphia is the ice cream center of the country, and ships truckloads of that commodity to New York daily. From Philadelphia, the pie reached New York, to the consternation of the cooks."

And what sort of person is Frank Brangwyn, that we have never seen him and mostly never heard of him should invite him to decorate the vast interior of our Capitol dome? There have been few such commissions from any State or municipality, if there has indeed been another, than in the United States. We are invited to the Journal for this: "An Anglo-Welshman born in Bruges, and educated by seafaring adventures and other foreign travels, Frank Brangwyn has blended together in his variegated appeal a scattered empire of aims and realizations, ranging from storms at sea to quiet landscapes, and from bleak industrialism in many places to those rhapsodies of color which the French have placed high in their writings on groups of Oriental painters. It has happened, too, that his most loyal patrons have been foreigners, and his most industrious decorators Englishmen. The colonizing and brave genius in his art has been liked most of all in countries which never boast, as we British do, about great gifts for colonization."

And what sort of person is Frank Brangwyn, that we have never seen him and mostly never heard of him should invite him to decorate the vast interior of our Capitol dome?

KREISLER'S MAGIC ART
CHARMS BIG AUDIENCE

Program Includes 'Kreutzer Sonata' and Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.
"KREISLER'S MAGIC ART" has been realized in Fritz Kreisler. The sheer aristocracy of this Barcarolle of the violin works a spell before a note is sounded. To conquer he has only to appear, with that knightly bearing, that gallant uplift of the head, and that sensitive, exalted countenance. Add to these an art noble, infinitely winning, fastidiously wrought, and there occur such triumphal events as his recital last night at the Odeon.

Despite admission fees on the $2 scale, the auditorium has never held a larger audience. The seats were packed, boxes, parquet and balcony. Extra chairs were snapped up and several scores found places on the platform. It is said that other hundreds were turned away. The enthusiasm was dramatic; throughout the evening the applause came in no patterning showers, but in veritable cloudbursts. At the end so many extra were demanded that the violinist had finally to excuse himself because of complete exhaustion.

The program was by all means the best in standard which Mr. Kreisler has ever proffered in St. Louis. Hitherto he has been censured for flouting the groundlings with saccharine frivolities. These were now erased from the list, and in their stead appeared not only one but two works in the largest forms. One mused as to whether any other recitalist could hazard with a lay public in one evening both sonata and a concerto, and induce his hearers not merely to endure so "heavy" a fare, but to relish it.

The "Kreutzer Sonata." The program opened with Beethoven's ninth violin sonata, in A Major, Op. 47, popularly known as the "Kreutzer Sonata" on account of the fact that the composer dedicated it to Rodolphe Kreutzer, a famous violinist who went to Vienna in the suite of Gen. Bernadotte. Upon this work Tolstoi has conferred a disolute and unmerited reputation. Instead of being an incitement to profanity, it has a first movement of sustained and opposing emotional forces, a second movement of great serenity, and a brilliant last movement which dances with gay and innocent vivacity.

Let it be remarked that Mr. Kreisler played the first movement as if he were "warming up" with a few startling lapses of intonation; and that he foisted his attack in the very first phrase of the Andante. In the third movement he found himself for the remainder of the evening, and thereafter one could only sit rapt and rejoicing in the most dexterous and brilliant playing of the violin. The second movement was a study in instrumentality; a skill of such easy mastery that difficulties cease altogether to exist, and in a genius transfiguring with hallowed fire even note that it touches.

Next came Mendelssohn's renowned Concerto in E Minor, justly ranked as one of his greatest works. It received a performance no less than miraculous, particularly in the singing of the second movement, which became a marvel of lovely tone, tender emotion and caring feeling. It was the evening's first encore—the exquisite "Hymn to the Sun" from Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Sadko."

Three Extras at the End. After these formidable labors were dispatched, the violinist proceeded to a group of small but worthy pieces. New to his repertory, so far as this city is concerned, was a Rondo in D major by Schubert, arranged by Carl Friedberg. There followed a minuet by Porpora, Carter's "La Chasse," Cyril Scott's "Lover's Land" and Kreisler's own "La Gitana."

The formal program was now ended, but no one left his seat. Hand-clapping and stamping of feet awoke the toes, and the recitalist played in succession Dvorak's "Indian" and the "Schoen Rosmarin" and "Caprice Viennois." The audience clamed and thundered for more, until Mr. Kreisler, returning twice to the platform without his violin, indicated that he had given his all. For his playing of the piano part of the "Kreutzer Sonata," Carl Lamson justly shared in the honors.

TURN HAIR DARK
WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is a grand mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking a few strands at a time, a coloring the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

ORDINANCE REQUIRING TAIL LIGHTS ON AUTOS NOT REPEALED

Police Mistaken in Interpretation of Recent Bill Passed by Aldermen, City Counselor States.

The impression which prevailed in the Police Department that there was no ordinance under which automobile drivers could be prosecuted for failing to have their cars equipped with red tail lights, as announced yesterday, was wrong.

The police believed that the repealing of section 1115A dealing with automobile tail lights, by the recent passage of an ordinance requiring signals on loads extending three feet or more beyond the rear end of automobiles, left them with out a legal excuse to make arrests or file complaints in cases of automobiles without tail lights.

However, the police were informed yesterday by the City Counselor that section 1084 of the ordinance, passed April 12, 1918, requiring automobiles to be equipped with red tail lights, is still in force, and that the punishment for violators ranges from a $5 fine to one of $100. So the police hereafter will proceed under the section hereafter will proceed under the section 1084.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. ## ROBERTSON GIVES BOND TO ANSWER BRIBERY CHARGE

Oklahoma Governor Goes to Okmulgee to "Meet the Issue" When He Learns of His Indictment.

SEVEN FORMER BANK OFFICIALS ALSO HELD

Executive Accused of Sharing $25,000 Bribe With State Bank Commissioner, Who Is Missing.

By Associated Press. OKMULGEE, Ok., March 22—Gov. J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma and seven officers of Okmulgee banks are under bond today for trial on indictments alleging illegal transactions involving two local banking institutions.

Gov. Robertson is charged specifically with accepting part of a $25,000 bribe in place of $10,000 of state funds in the former Guaranty State Bank to prevent closure when that bank was known to have been insolvent.

The State Executive came here early last night from Oklahoma City accepting $25,000 in bonds furnished by the state and departed in a few hours to return to the State Capital. He said his visit was to "meet the issue" without delay. The Governor declined further comment on the charge, declaring the case was in the hands of his attorneys, whose advice he would follow. One Defendant Missing.

Besides those arrested yesterday, a warrant is held for Fred Dennis, former State Bank Commissioner, jointly indicted with Gov. Robertson. Dennis is charged in the indictment with having shared in a $12,000 bribe with the Governor. Dennis has been missing from Oklahoma City since he resigned several months ago. A search will be instituted for him.

The indictment returned by the District Court grand jury against Gov. Robertson and the former State Banking Commissioner charges that Dennis, with the knowledge of the Governor, made an examination of the Guaranty State Bank in September, 1926, which disclosed that the institution was insolvent.

The Governor and the Bank Commissioner, however, voted and authorized under the law to determine the solvency or insolvency of said bank, the indictment alleges, took from John H. Rebold, wealthy oil operator and vice president of the bank, a bribe of $12,000 pursuant to an agreement that $150,000 in state funds would be deposited in the insolvent bank, and that "through the influence of these officers the bank would be allowed to continue business, although insolvent, in violation of the State law."

Details of Transaction.

The $25,000 was delivered by Rebold to Gov. Robertson and Dennis by means of a cashier's check, and their receipt of cash in view of the case, it is noted.

Dennis took the check tendered by Rebold, deposited it in an Oklahoma City bank, and split it. Three wire records taken before the grand jury purported to show Gov. Robertson was alleged to have received a check for $8,000 and Dennis a similar amount with which he purchased.

No other soap is needed for the entire family wash

Just soaking loosens all the dirt

Let soaking do almost all the work for you instead of just a little. Soaking in big, lasting, lukewarm Rinso suds loosens all the dirt. A little dry Rinso rubbed on the places where the dirt is most ground-in removes every trace of it.

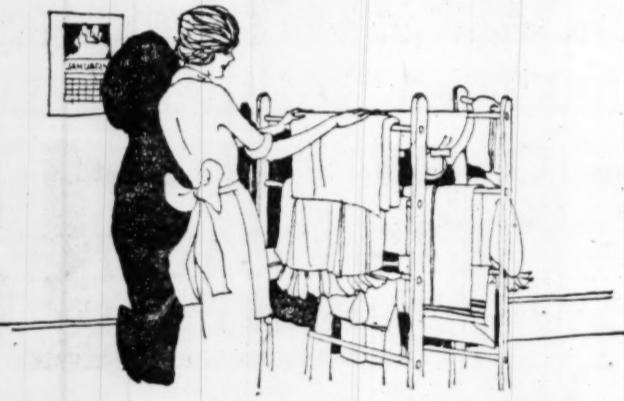

If you like to boil

A Rinso soaking makes boiling unnecessary, but if you like to boil your white cottons pour enough Rinso solution in your boiler to give you the suds you like. The other soaps and the soap powder you use are not needed with Rinso.

If you use a washing machine

Help it to do its best work. Rinso suds have the body needed to get clothes clean without any rubbing. With Rinso you do not have to use a soap powder—or any other soap.

NOTE—In hard water it takes from 3/4 to 1 package of Rinso to a tub to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1 1/2 to 2 packages to a tub to get the big lasting suds that loosen all the dirt.

The Miracle of the Washtub

One of the surprising things about Fruit of the Loom is that it comes out of the washtub even better than it went in.

This famous cotton can be laundered again and again, and the finish seems only to grow finer and the white even whiter.

There is no foreign substance in Fruit of the Loom—it is all pure cotton, fine, evenly woven, staunch and long-lasting.

For seventy years women have used Fruit of the Loom for their white sewing—in nightwear, sheets, shirts, aprons, and many other articles.

Fruit of the Loom

You can buy this time-tested fabric in leading stores not only by the yard, but also in ready-made garments; and not only in white, but now in colors as well—in colors that are guaranteed fast.

Fruit of the Loom is identified by the label, and the white goods are now marked on the selvage.

$200 FINE CUT TO $10 TO AVOID HARSHSHIP ON FAMILY

Max DeWoskin, Grocer, Was Arrested When Spoiled Candy and Beans Were Found in Store.

A fine of $200 imposed yesterday upon Max DeWoskin, a food dealer, at 1530 Franklin avenue, on charges of offering food unfit for human consumption, was reduced to $10 later in the day by Judge Calvin Miller.

DeWoskin was arrested during the recent campaign of State Food and Drug Commissioner Prather, who found spoiled candy and beans in his store.

Judge Miller said that DeWoskin came to him after the trial and said that a $200 fine would work a hardship on his family. "He seemed contrite," the Judge said, "and I reduced the fine."

CHILD, 3, FATALLY BURNED

Lillian Witherspore, 3-year-old daughter of Mrs. Bessie Witherspore, a negress at 2732A Lucas avenue, died at city hospital No. 2 yesterday afternoon from burns suffered in the morning when the child's clothing caught fire from a grate fire in the home.

ROBERTSON GIVES BOND TO ANSWER BRIBERY CHARGE

chased a farm. No record of the check was produced.

When the legislative investigation of the transaction was made last year with a view to the impeachment of Gov. Robertson, Dennis admitted receiving the $25,000 from Rebold, but said it was in consideration of an oil lease which he sold to the oil man. Gov. Robertson was paid one-third of the $25,000 for his interest in the lease, Dennis declared.

Tie on Impeachment

A report of the House committee recommending impeachment, which failed of adoption by a tie vote before the full House, declared the land in question "was not worth $1 per acre, and that the sale of the lease, if any, was made only to cover up a corrupt transaction."

Rebold at the time asserted he paid the $25,000 to Dennis for the oil lease, but said he had never examined the property and did not hold title to it. Gov. Robertson's name did not appear in the lease as holder of use, Dennis declared.

Rebold and John P. Cooke, former president of the Guaranty State Bank, are under joint indictment for tendering the alleged bribe. Both are charged with accepting deposits in an insolvent bank and, in addition, Rebeld is charged with accepting bribes and borrowing money from the bank while a director.

The Guaranty State Bank was purchased on Jan. 2, 1921, by the Okmulgee Bank of Commerce and the failure of the latter brought about the grand jury investigation of banking transactions here. The others under bond for appearance at trial on charges ranging in the various cases from accepting deposits in an insolvent bank to embezzlement, making false reports as to the condition of a bank and borrowing money from banks in which they are officers are:

J. R. Brown, president of the defunct Bank of Commerce.

Ernest G. Ray, cashier of the Bank of Commerce.

John W. Hammond, former director of the Guaranty State Bank.

A. J. Peters, former vice president of the Guaranty State Bank.

L. H. D. Cooke, former director of the Guaranty State Bank.

Other Failures Investigated

Three other warrants remained to be served today on banking violations returned by the grand jury. Two were said to be for Oklahoma men and the other was understood to be in connection with the failure of the State Bank of Preston, in this county.

J. W. Meyers, president of the First Bank of Hoffman, was served with a warrant yesterday on an indictment in connection with the failure of that institution.

County Attorney Hepburn, who conducted the grand jury investigation, started off on a vacation today and he announced that the date for trial of defendants in the banking cases would not be fixed until he returned, in a week or 10 days.

Accompanied by Col. B. H. Markham of the Oklahoma State National Guard, and his attorney, J. D. Lydick, Gov. Robertson arrived here early last night from Oklahoma City. The trip was made by automobile.

After bond had been signed, the Governor issued the following written statement:

"This indictment coming as it does after the events here of two weeks ago is no surprise to me, nor any of my friends. I am here to meet the issue without delay. The matter, so far as I am concerned, is in the hands of my attorneys, whose advice I will follow. That is all I have to say at present."

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by flatulence following eating after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, causing attacks of gastritis, accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and souring, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal function of the vital internal organs often causing "bloating."

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead, from any druggist, a few grains of Bismuth Magnesia, and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the acids and prevent its formation and there is no danger of constipation. Bismuth Magnesia in powder or tablets is the best medicine. It will not be harmful to the stomach, inexpensive, and for such purposes as this, it is the best and most economical treatment for the thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

ATTACK ON FORD'S OFFER

FILED IN HOUSE COMMITTEE

Los Angeles Engineer Criticizes Proposal for Disposal of Muscle Shoals Project.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—Henry Ford's offer for purchase and lease of the Government's war-initiated properties at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and that of the Alabama Power Co. for lease and operation of the power projects there are attacked by J. E. Levering, a consulting engineer of Los Angeles, in a statement filed today with the House Military Committee at its request.

Summarizing the Ford proposal, Levering says first that "it requires the completion of dam No. 3, which is uncertain" from an engineering standpoint. In the second instance, he declares, "it requires the Government to litigate the title to Gorgas steam plant and transmission lines before it becomes operative. This means delay and the ruin of nitrate plant No. 2."

Other criticisms of the offer contained in the statement are:

This tender will cost the Government more than $50,000,000 and if dam No. 3 is not successful, there would be little chance of recapturing the property or amortizing the investment.

"Mr. Ford makes this tender as a dear friend of the farmers from whom he has acquired millions of dollars. Should he get possession of their fertilizer supply, they will realize that he is the 'dearest friend' they ever had."

WOMEN VOTERS DO NOT WANT MILLER TO RESIGN IN HASTE

Gov. Hyde Asked in Resolution to Get at Facts on Commissioner's Position.

A resolution requesting Gov. Hyde to use his influence to prevent Victor Miller from resigning his office at this time was passed yesterday at a meeting of the City Central Committee of the League of Women Voters. The meeting was called by a special committee appointed to determine if the league could take a constructive stand in the situation resulting from charges by Miller, president of the Police Board, that an immoral club of boys existed at Spalding High School.

The resolution asks that Gov. Hyde "use his influence in the heat of the moment moment to prevent Miller's resignation" and that the Governor appoint a "carefully chosen commission to get at the facts of Miller's position." Four of the 49 Central Committee members present voted against the resolution.

A decision was made to have a committee formulate recommendations as to some constructive policy the league can adopt bearing on the recreation and protection of boys and girls. This committee, which will likely be headed by Mrs. Irvin Bettman, chairman of the league's education committee, will not take up its work until after the special school tax election next Tuesday.

TWO "PULLERS" REVERSE APPEALS AND PLEAD GUILTY

Fines of $25 and Costs Each Paid by Frank Bass and Rubin Levitt.

When the cases against Frank Bass, 1129 North Fifteenth street, and Rubin Levitt, 2069 O'Fallon street, charged with violating the "pullers" ordinance, came up on appeal in the Court of Criminal Correction today, they reversed their appeal and pleaded guilty. The fine of $25 and costs which had been assessed against each in Police Court was affirmed.

The evidence in Police Court was that Levitt passed out cards on Washington avenue of the Hub Clothing Co., Sixth street and Lucas Avenue, and that Bass "pulled" in front of the clothing store to maintain a restaurant on Franklin Avenue, denied handing out the cards on the street, but said he had handed out to customers some which the manager of the clothing store gave to him. Bass testified that he merely stood at the entrance to answer questions and to keep "pullers" of other stores away.

"MAGUIRE NOT INSANE"
ALIENIST TESTIFIES

Relatives of Man Who Killed Brother-in-Law Had Testified to His Unusual Actions.

Testimony in the case of Thomas G. Maguire, 27 years old, 4361 Page boulevard, charged with first degree murder, who is pleading insanity in connection with the killing of his brother-in-law, Edward Banks, at the Maguire home May 21, last, was resumed in the Circuit Court today.

Dr. Francis M. Barnes, alienist, testifying for the State, said he had talked with Maguire at the city jail and was convinced he was not insane. In answer to a hypothetical question, covering the circumstances surrounding the shooting of Banks by Maguire, Dr. Barnes testified the act might have been that of a normal person or of an insane person.

"Thought Tom Was Nutty."

August K. Kraft, a barber, of 1723 North Taylor avenue, testified that Maguire, for a year before the shooting, would, after getting shaved, stand before a mirror and contort his face into grotesque and ridiculous shapes. These actions caused the barber to write note to Maguire's family shortly before the slaying, saying that he thought "Tom was nutty."

Asked by attorneys to illustrate the "funny faces" made by Maguire, Kraft drew his features into such shapes that Judge Hogan, the court attaches and spectators were thrown into laughter. Maguire laughed louder than any of the rest.

Relatives' Testimony.

Relatives of Maguire, including his sister, Mrs. Fannie Banks, widow of the slain man, testified yesterday afternoon that Maguire, following a surgical operation two months previously to the killing of Banks, became extremely religious, attended church services on every occasion he could, prayed aloud frequently and urged members of his family to pray.

Mr. Banks testified his husband had been abusive to her and that his conduct in this regard preyed on the mind of her brother. She said the shooting followed a conference between her husband and brother in which the latter upbraided Banks for mistreating her.

At the Coroner's inquest Banks, although warned that he did not have to make a statement, took the witness stand and said he had been commanded in a vision to kill Banks.

BUSINESS REPORTED GRADUALLY
RETURNING TO NORMAL STAGE

Commerce Department Reports
Marked Improvement in "Backbone Industries" of Country.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Business is gradually approaching normal, according to figures compiled by the Department of Commerce up to last Monday, and while the favorable movement has not been evenly distributed among the different industries which constitute the backbone of American business has been "very marked" over conditions of a few months ago.

The outstanding change in conditions during recent weeks, the report says, has been the "substantial increase" in prices of agricultural products, with the exception of tobacco, for February over January.

The principal food commodities the following notable increases have occurred: Hogs, 45 per cent in two months; sheep and lambs from 40 to 70 per cent, and wheat and corn, to 20 per cent. Wool, 20 per cent, and 28 per cent, while cattle and minor cereals showed substantial gains. Cotton, while slightly higher than in January, was still below the price prevailing in the last quarter of 1921.

Coal and gasoline production increased during the month and there was an increase in building operations throughout the country of $11,000,000, despite the shorter month.

The Story That Those Tail-End Phils Expect a Bully Season Sounds Rather Cock-and-Bully

Kraft Strikes Out Hornsby Twice in Exhibition Battle

Beaumont Pitcher Whiffs Rogers With Bases Full in Fifth—Cardinals Win, 9-3.

REINHART POUNDED HARD

Exporters Score All Their Runs Off Southpaw—Rickey's Outfielders Star.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

BEAUMONT, Tex., March 23.—It may be that there have been few high lights in the career of Lou Kraft. But there is small chance that Lou will forget yesterday's game between the Cardinals and the Beaumont Exporters. Lou had heard tell that Rickey had a pretty hefty hitter in the person of Roger Hornsby and so, when first he faced Rickey yesterday, he presented his fellow Texan with a pass. In the third inning he struck Hornsby out fairly with a curve ball and, finding it a simple operation, repeated the feat in the fifth, the last time, by the way, with the bases full. The final score, however, was 9 to 3, with the Cardinals on the long end.

Outside of some rare bits of outfield play on the part of Jack Smith, Austin McHenry and Clarence Mueller, the game didn't amount to much. Four St. Louis pitchers worked, Reinhardt, Lou North, Bill Barnes and Jess Haines getting a chance. The Exporters could do nothing with the three last named, centering their attack on Reinhardt and scoring all their runs off him in the third inning.

Beaumont, for a few precious minutes, was in the lead by virtue of these three runs. The Cardinals having counted but twice in the third. The fifth saw the Rickey-men step in front, never again to be headed.

Four Assists for Outfielders.

Four assists for outfielders of one club in a single game is pretty fair work. Of these, Mueller helped himself to two, McHenry and Jack Smith contributing one apiece. Smith's assist was the most spectacular as it came when he, at first on an apparent clean hit, at right field, Mueller and McHenry relayed the ball in to get Center Fielder Vache at the plate in the first, just after Smith had cut down De Kaggio and Mueller to Adams to Stock, got the same player at third when, in the fifth, he tried to stretch a double into a triple.

Lou North, pitching the fourth and fifth, did several things. He had a fast ball hopping, but his control was not perfect. He fanned the first man to face him in the fourth, passed the next two and struck out the pair to follow. In the fifth he fanned De Maggio, then hit for a double by the persistent Vache, who was nailed at third, and made Weisz, former Brownie outfielder, look bad by curving over the third one.

The keeper of the box score was stricken by nervous prostration toward the end of the game as the Cardinals used 18 players and Beaumont did 15. Shotton got into a game for the first time this year and Mueller gave everyone a treat by assuming first-base duties in the final two innings. He's a fine hit man, Mueller, and he can go and get 'em in the garden, but that lets him out. Pfeurrier need not worry over his job.

Recruits are leaving by almost every train now. Yesterday Earl Seagoons received notification of his release to the Corsican club and departed.

HARRY SCULLIN GIVES A BONUS OF $3500 TO WINNING SOCCER STARS

A bonus of $3500 from Harry Scullin was the greatest players who last Sunday won the national championship from the president of the company they represented. This was learned this morning. Manager Tom Fohi, who took the check for $3500, while the other players received $1000.

The Scullins will be honored with a banquet and dance at the Statler Hotel April 4. The Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Louis Soccer League are behind the dinner. The affair will be an informal one and all soccer enthusiasts are invited. Efforts will be made to bring Thomas W. Scullin.

Those in charge of arrangements are Winton E. Barker, president of the St. Louis League; J. G. Barrett, secretary; Western C. C. committee; and Harry Scullin, president of F. E. Winsor and T. W. Payne, Junior Chamber of Commerce.

MIKE GIBBONS WILL MEET GREB ON MAY 1

MINNEAPOLIS, March 22.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul will meet Harry Greb, Pittsburgh bantam, in a 15-round bout in Jersey City May 1. Mike Collins, the "phantom," manager of the grebs, today said the bout would go last early in April to train for the bout. Dave Mackay, Jersey promoter, will give Gibbons 25 per cent of the gate receipts. Greb recently defeated Mike's brother, Tommy, in a 15-round bout.

SEVEN TIGERS AWARDED BASKETBALL EMBLEMS

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 22.—Virtually all the basketball emblems have been awarded to the following members of the Missouri Basketball squad, by the committee on Intercollegiate Athletics: Capt. George Jones, Art. Brown, John Knight, Robert Bunker, Robert Haskins, Parrot and Kaeer Vanice. The squad will be entertained next week with a dinner by the committee.

Rookie Catcher, Likely to Be Retained by Cardinals

HERBERT BENNINGHOVEN.

The death of "Picke" Dulhoef-er, which left a vacancy in the catching department of the Cardinals, put an unexpected prob-lem up. Manager Rickey.

With Almquist on the team his only regulars, Rickey has only raw material for substitute catching purposes. He is confronted with the necessity of keeping one of the green hands, as three catchers are the least a club can take a chance with.

Ellis, a collegian who reports today, and Benninghoven are the best of these.

Benninghoven, who is favored to land the job, is 24 years old.

Browns Shaping Up for Cardinal Games; Will Get Test Against Brooklyn, Today

Fohi's Men, After Romping Over Minor League Foes All Spring, Will Meet Sternest Stuff.

By J. Roy Stockton, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MOBILE, Ala., March 22.—Uncle Willert Robinson brought his Brooklyn Dodgers to Mobile from their training camp at Jacksonville, Fla., last night and this afternoon will furnish the Browns with their first major league opposition of the 1922 spring training trip and their last game of the season in the Fohi-men's training camp here. Tomorrow night the Browns will pack their trunks and will be a traveling club for the balance of the training period.

Six easy victories over the Mobile team of the Southern Association have only furnished batting, fielding and signal practice for the Browns and have whetted their appetites for some high-caliber competition. Tomorrow, now on the class of the Fohi-men, they will be high enough to test the machine with which represent St. Louis in the American League this year.

This afternoon Fohi intends to send his pitching ace, Urban Shocker, against the Dodgers, with Billy Ray, probably, as the finishing twirler. The Cardinals' great showing against the Yanks has made the Browns eager to take the measure of a grown-up opponent and Brooklyn will offer the first opportunity.

Now for Some Real Stuff.

The game this afternoon marks the beginning of a bus period. Tomorrow evening the team departs for Pensacola, where the Louisiana State team of the American League will be met in a three-game series Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week New Orleans will be played at the Browns. Thursday and Friday the Browns will tackle St. Paul of the A. A. and Saturday and Sunday April 1 and 2, the Cardinals will be opposed, also in New Orleans.

As the Cardinals are in high heat of a high place in the pennant race, and the Browns can be depended on to wage a hard fight for the New Orleans games, the Browns are pointing for those contests as the best test the spring will give of the team's power in action.

After watching both clubs in action it appears that the rivals this spring will furnish the most interesting series in years.

Mobile Again is Easy.

Yesterday the Browns returned to the Mobile park for their workout smooth Mobile grounds, and Ellerbe, Dixie Davis, Frank Henry and Willie Wright divided the pitching, each working three innings. Davis allowed two hits and was sending his fast ball and shoots over the plate in fine form. He walked two men and did not score any strikeouts. Henry gave only one hit, struck out three and walked two men. Wright was touched for four hits, two of them along with a walk, setting the only Mobile run.

Indications Are Strong That Games With Rickeymen at New Orleans Will Be Hard-Fought.

NEW ORLEANS, March 22.—UDGE K. M. LANDIS, baseball's high commissioner, will watch the New York Yankees and the New Orleans Pelicans this afternoon. Incidentally he may be appealed to to modify the sentence of Babe Ruth.

smooth Mobile grounds, and Ellerbe, Dixie Davis, Frank Henry and Willie Wright divided the pitching, each working three innings. Davis allowed two hits and was sending his fast ball and shoots over the plate in fine form. He walked two men and did not score any strikeouts. Henry gave only one hit, struck out three and walked two men. Wright was touched for four hits, two of them along with a walk, setting the only Mobile run.

N.Y.A.C. Trainer Thinks McAlester Will Set Record

"Flying Cop" Will Run 100 Yards in 9.2-5 Seconds in Year, Says Weber.

Jake Weber, New York A. C. and Fordham trainer, who is here looking after the physical condition of Willie Hoppe, who next week will try to regain the world's 100-yard ball-kicking championship, asserts that in his opinion Bob McAlester, the "flying cop" of New York, is the only athlete with a chance to break Charlie Paddock's 193-yard mark of 9.3 seconds.

In fact, Weber thinks that McAlester will within six months, will within the 100 yards in 9.2-5 seconds. According to Weber, McAlester stands 5 feet 8 inches and weighs 155 pounds.

Loren Murchison, the St. Louis boy, is the only sprinter who has been able to defeat McAlester in races on the other hand, has gained victories in Schools, Colleges and the other Eastern states. Murchison has it on McAlester mainly in the start, according to Weber, as he usually gets a jump of about two yards on the latest New York phenom.

Although he has been running only six months, McAlester has a record for the 100 yards indoor race of 9.4 seconds.

Something About Paddock.

"It is my honest opinion that with another year, McAlester will be running the 100 yards in 9.2-5 seconds. He is a powerful runner and usually catches his opponents around the 40-yard mark. I think he is the only man in the country today with a chance to break Charlie Paddock's record for the 100 yards.

Weber has ideas of his own regarding the records which have been held up by Paddock. He thinks that the one of McAlester's marks which is in danger is the 100-yard mark of 9.3 seconds. He does not think any runner will be able to beat the 100 yards in 9.2-5, which better than 10 seconds for each 100 yards.

It is Weber's opinion that when Paddock is scheduled to run, the Cardinals' coach, George A. Landis, should join the Eastern and Western divisions and have them send stars to compete against the coast star. All of Paddock's records have been made when running against local talent. Weber thinks that official timers should be used to make sure that officials will not be able to beat the 100 yards.

Wall Street
News and Comment
SPECIAL DAILY

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Movement on the Stock Exchange today was quiet and uncertain. A number of special stocks were weak, a smaller number were strong. In between these extremes there was little to do. The market did very little on either the up or the down. The rate on standing call loans advanced to 4% and the quotation on new money was again marked up to 5%.

The Bond Market.

Bonds were less active and more irregular today. The recent upward swing of United States war loan-backed material as the call money rate hardened under Government and interior bank withdrawals. Foreign Government bonds reflected the movement in the exchange market. The influence of the German reparations situation had a depressing effect.

United Kingdom 5% advanced fractionally, then went back to yesterday's closing price, while the French bonds all kept steady. The uncertainty regarding the Mexican situation was responsible for the decline of over a point in the Mexican-American, 10.300.

COCONUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and itchy. Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in.

A first prize of $100, a second of $19 and a third of $15, a fourth of $10 and a fifth of $5 will be awarded to each State to the person who has the best essay or oration.

The topic must present some phase of the industrial, political, social or educational situation in Turkey.

Armenia, Georgia, Syria, Palestine or other adjacent regions in which the Near East relief organization is operating.

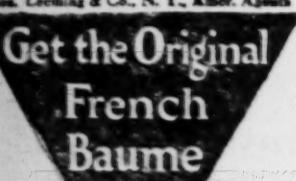

Only members of the two highest classes in high school will be eligible.

The winners in each State will be selected by a State committee.

The national prize winners will be selected from the State prize winners by a committee of judges, consisting of Albert Shaw, editor of the American Review of Reviews; Lawrence L. Engelhardt of Columbia University;

DEFICIT IN HANDLING OF MAIL
DUE LARGELY TO PARCEL POST

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—Responsibility for deficits incurred by the Post Office Department in the handling of the mail is attributed largely to the parcel post system, which has been selected by the joint postal commission, which has been conducting a nation-wide investigation into the cost of handling all classes of mail matter. Conclusions of the commission are to be incorporated in a report to be submitted to Congress next fall. After further investigations have been completed, it was announced today.

Members of the commission and officials of the Post Office Department declared the parcel post to be indispensable to the country, but asserted that some system should be devised to establish it on a paying basis.

The joint commission created by Congress to investigate postal conditions has held hearings in various cities, principally at congested postal centers like Chicago, Philadelphia and New York. It has been found, it was explained, that conditions in New York and Philadelphia especially were most unsatisfactory.

Keys to Women's Happiness

"Self-Improvement Is a Woman's Own Self-Expression—Without This No Woman on Earth Can Be Happy."

Self-Improvement
Discussed by
Mrs. Sally James Farnham

By FAY STEVENSON.
(Copyright, 1922.)

HERE is a key, a much used and most appreciated key to happiness, which the modern woman uses daily—it is the key to self-improvement.

The master key to a woman's happiness is, doubtless, Sally James Farnham, the famed woman sculptor, who is at present making a bust of President Harding, and whose studio is lined with busts of many of the world's greatest statesmen.

Mrs. Farnham was perched upon a table in her studio, clad in a khaki coat and knickerbockers, when she announced most positively that self-improvement was woman's master key to happiness. She made a very bright, lifelike picture, sitting there amid her own creation, with a sparkling crackling wood fire sending out sheets. A strikingly handsome daughter, clad in riding habit, burst into the studio and announced she had just had a "bully canter through Central Park; a small son followed about with two white wolf-dogs; a luxurious black and white cat reposed on a cushion near the open fire, while a green and orange parrot chirped away about "Polly wanting a cracker."

In this studio stage setting shifted, the girl in the riding habit disappeared, the boy became involved in a book, the dogs curled up for a siesta and Mrs. Farnham and I continued our conversation.

"Of all the keys to a woman's happiness, self-improvement is probably the most satisfying one," said Mrs. Farnham. "A woman may tire of these other keys, but self-improvement, the study of some one special subject, is always fascinating and interesting each year."

"Personally, I believe a woman may be very happy by using all of the keys to happiness which you have mentioned. Adornment is a key to happiness which every feminine woman uses. I haven't a woman's acquaintance who hasn't derived great pleasure through clothes and cosmetics. Domestic interests appeal to every woman, and even though a woman does not run her own home, she likes to have finery on a spoon and a charming dish every so often. Love, of course, is a key to a woman's happiness and a most important one. Society, too, claims her attention and gives her many hours of pleasure; but self-improvement, that study of the 'cuits' or 'isms' or her own life work, is another key."

"Self-improvement is the development of her own 'ego,'" continued Mrs. Farnham. "It is her own self-expression. And without this development, without this something within herself, no woman on earth can be truly happy."

"But does the average housewife have time for self-improvement?" I asked this clever woman sculptor who has found time to rear her family and go in for a career, too.

"The average housewife and business woman has as much time for self-improvement, and to make her key to happiness as she has for self-adornment, domestic interests or any of the other four keys you've mentioned," rejoined Mrs. Farnham with a vivacious snap of her fingers.

UNCOMMON SENSE

By JOHN BLAKE.

THE REAL LUXURY TAX.

THE United States Government has remitted the 10 per cent tax on luxuries, of which most people bitterly complained.

You no longer have to pay an extra quarter if you are foolish or hungry enough to eat food that costs you $2.50 for the amount served at a single meal.

You no longer need add 10 per cent to the cost of a more expensive overcoat than you really need.

If you have been what is called a "spender," some of the needless things you have bought will cost you less than they did. But it is unlikely that you will save the money. Once the luxury habit is acquired it is hard to break. And that money which you don't need to pay to the Government any more is very sure to go into other luxuries which you couldn't get in the old days of the luxury tax.

The real luxury tax is not paid to the Government, and never was. It is a tax that you impose on yourself, by indulging in things which give you nothing in return but temporary self-gratification.

And it is a far heavier tax than a 10 per cent tax, for the amount it will take from your income by and by is pretty near the size of the income itself.

Every penny expended for foolishness—for things that you cannot afford—for luxuries that you learn to want merely because other people have them—is a tax not only on your earnings, but on your future.

If you have more money than you can spend, no one is going to object to your wearing $200 overcoats or even buying a yacht.

But if you are getting these things at the expense of your own future, you are putting a luxury tax on yourself which is far harder to bear than any ever imposed by the Government.

The desire to have all the comforts that other people have is natural, but it is very hard to tell just what are comforts and what are luxuries. And if you fall into the way of being too comfortable you will soon be about as progressive as the cat which curts in purring comfort before the fireplace.

And you will not be as wise as the cat, for she has the knack of making human beings provide for her and giving no return. That is a knack you will never possess.

You are free from the Government luxury tax now, but you can only free yourself from the really burdensome luxury tax by your own efforts.

Willpower alone, which is a difficult thing to cultivate, will put an end to that tax.

The Absorbing Story of a Woman's Heart

By RUBY M. AYRES

SEVENTH INSTALLMENT.

By and by I forced myself to go back. The young fellow who had come with Richard had also had too much to drink, he paid me absurd compliments. I looked at Richard appealingly, but he only laughed, as if he enjoyed the joke. Father and Mr. Furnival were used to it—they let both men say what they liked.

Presently I was left alone with them for a few moments. Mr. Seldon was half asleep in an arm chair—Richard and I stood facing one another in the silent room.

Suddenly he took a step forward.

"Mother—don't," I said suddenly.

I felt broken and ashamed, this man for whom I had wished to appear at my very best had walked right into the heart and soul of my tragedy.

I was in love with him, you will say. Well, of course I was! I think I had been in love with him ever since I was 12 years old.

After Richard and his friend had gone that night, both Furnival and my father were in a bad temper.

"Tempest snuff'd a rat," my father said. "I think I don't altogether trust that fellow. Where did you pick him up?"

I met Richard the next day.

He told me how he found out about me and the life I was living.

It appears that Seldon had known Furnival for a long time and heard all about my father's house.

Furnival had promised to take him there one night, and Seldon, who could never keep his own counsel, told Richard, and inadvertently mentioned that there was a daughter, a "dashed pretty girl," named May, who lived there.

Richard said he seemed to see straight away that it must be me.

I remembered your refusal to tell me your address," he said, "and so I guessed the truth for myself."

And then we sat silent for a long time.

There was a longer silence this time and somehow, I felt as if the summer day were momentarily standing still, waiting for something—for what?

I hardly knew—or was I afraid to know? But I was conscious of my racing heartbeats.

Then Richard said—and his voice was not quite steady:

"You're such a kid. If only I were two years older—. He broke off suddenly and the silence fell again.

Such a kid! I suppose I was not quite so sorry," laughed Billy, and as she led him into the living room she threw herself upon the divan and burst into tears.

"You ought to say you never were sorry," laughed Billy, slightly embarrassed, for in all the time he had known Peggy he had never seen her shed a single tear.

"Then, bending over her, he added: "You poor girl, you are almost tired to death with all your extra work at the office and that night school business."

"I'm simply tickled to death to see YOU," contradicted Peggy as she sat up and smiled at him through her tears, producing the effect of a rainbow.

"I never have to put up with it again," I said in a hard voice.

"I am going to be married."

"I want to speak to you."

I followed him to the dining room, and he shut the door.

"I haven't any prospects—Heaven only knows when I shall have. At present I can hardly keep myself from running away with him."

His conciliating tones told me what was coming; he was not usually so considerate.

"What do you wish to say to me?" I said.

I ignored the chair he drew up, and remained standing by the table.

He finished the whisky and soda at a gulp, and sat down.

"You're growing up," he began.

"You must be—nearly 19, isn't it?"

"Yes." My lips felt dry and stiff.

"It's time you had a husband," he said, smiling.

In the center is a bathing suit of orange satin, embroidered in white and worn with a rubber banding the same colors.

When a bathing suit is of orange satin with front panels embroidered in a like tone, and worn with a moire cape, far be it from milady to venture near the water, especially when completed by a real hat of orange and white rubber, as shown on the right.

"antiseptic poultice" can be improvised at a moment's notice and employed until a doctor is reached. This consists of (first) a compress of sterilized gauze soaked in hot salt water; (second), over the compress place a layer—one inch thick—of clean absorbent cotton, wrung in the salt water; the whole snugly bandaged in place.

Now it has been known from time immemorial that salt water will heal wounds. This fact was resurrected during the last war by naval surgeons, who used dead salt water employed in the injuries of first magnitude as antiseptic poultices. It was bear in mind when remote medical help. Sea salt water is rendered sterile by boiling. Ordinary water is made by adding clean salt to boiling water. Physiological salt solution consists of one spoonful of salt to one pint of water. It is sufficient to wash the solution and protect it with the solution and protect it as an antiseptic dressing.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

SPOKEN IN PASSING.

WHEN you hear two natural wheezes, both unintentional, in one day and at one place you are entitled, I think, to enter in your calendar with red ink. In my own personal experience I recall only one such.

It was in June of 1918, over in France. A negro regiment had gone to under fire and the punishment being heavy and the troops being green at actual warfare, one battalion had broken. Stragglers were sifting back through the supporting lines.

A small yellow private came hurrying rearward. Men of a white regiment lying alongside the road waiting for the order to advance began guying him for his haste. Some of them were so ungracious as to recall that the colored boys the night before had been bragging of what they meant to do to the enemy. In reply to a particularly barbed taunt the retreating soldier, without slacking his gait, cast a sidewise glance over his shoulder and said:

"Lissen! We now admits we ain't no bear cats!"

A few minutes later a big black soldier passed, also moving toward the rear with speed. In reply to a question as to why his company had broken he halted just long enough to say:

"Cose we pulled out. Dey didn't give us no propah suppose! Why, dey didn't even give us no garage!"

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

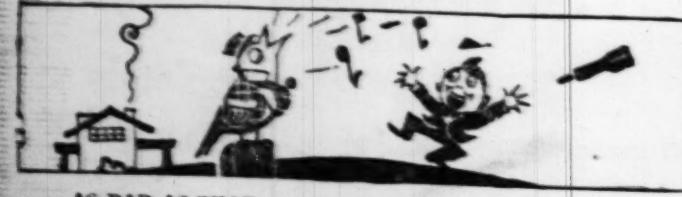

WAITING FOR THE PRODIGAL.
We've bailed the cat; we've scattered seeds
Beneath the maple tree.
And everything a robin needs
Is handy as can be.
Of string and straw to build his nest
He'll never find a lack,
For he will be a welcome guest
If only he'll come back.

We've driven off the thievish Jay
That hogged the worm supply.
We've warmed that little owl away—
He had an evil eye.
We're going to have the trees policed,
And soon there won't be left
About the place a bird or beast
That dares commit a theft.

If we but knew just where he was
We'd send a message on,
And bid him hurry up, because
The snow is almost gone.
The winter frost has left the ground,
The spring is on the way,
And we saw angeworms around
The garden patch today.

It's been a mighty weary wait
The whole bleak winter long!
Life goes with a lagged gait
Without the happy-top song.
It seems an age since we heard
That voice across the fern,
He'll be a mighty welcome bird
When he comes home again!

AS BAD AS THAT.
There are a lot of plays in New York that no careful young girl would take her fiance to.
